Message of the Week

Reflection for the 21st Sunday In Ordinary Time, Cycle C

Many years ago on a family vacation to Italy we found ourselves roaming the streets of Venice. Our destination that evening was a small restaurant near Saint Mark's Square. GPS on our phone gave us the choice of a quick route and a longer route. Normally we would choose the quickest way, but that night we chose to follow the longer directions. It led us through the narrowest streets and across the narrowest bridges. The walk was more difficult, the paths were winding, and the cobblestones hurt our feet. But when I look back at the photos of our trip, the ones from that night bring back the greatest memories because on that route we saw sights and experienced beauty that we would not have experienced had we taken the wider and more direct way. Had we taken the easiest route our experience would not have been the same.

Our Gospel today is asking us to think about the route to salvation that we are choosing to take. It is urging us to think about salvation and how we are to achieve it. Though salvation is offered to all, it is not automatic and though we may be tempted sometimes to think that achieving it is an easy path, we are reminded that we must endure difficult times and humble ourselves in order to enter by the narrow gate. In the Gospel, Jesus reminds us that salvation does not come on the basis of privilege but on our actions.

What then is the narrow door? It is Jesus! He himself told us, "I am the door" (Jn 10:9). Pope Francis provided great wisdom about the path to salvation when he spoke in an Angelus address that Jesus "leads us to communion with the Father, where we find love, understanding and protection. But why is this door narrow, one might ask? Why does he say it is narrow? It is a narrow door not because it is oppressive, but because it demands that we restrain and limit our pride and our fear, in order to open ourselves to Him with humble and trusting hearts, acknowledging that we are sinners and in need of his forgiveness. This is why it is narrow, to limit our pride, which swells us. The door of God's mercy is narrow but is always open to everyone! The door is narrow but always open wide: do not forget this."

Pope Benedict in a 2002 Angelus address explains that "the passage to eternal life is open to all, but it is "narrow" because it is demanding: it requires commitment, self-denial and the mortification of one's selfishness." Pope Benedict further reminds us that "if we too want to pass through the narrow door, we must work to be little, that is, humble of heart like Jesus, like Mary his Mother and our Mother.

Taking the narrower path requires humility, it requires an admission that life is not measured by what we possess, but rather by how much we have given up in order to become closer to Jesus. Entering by the narrower path requires shedding those things that "puff us up" and make it difficult to enter. It is by emptying ourselves of the things that lead us away from Jesus that we become able to enter His presence through the narrow gate.

Be courageous my friends, for the journey that leads to heaven can often be difficult, so "strengthen your drooping hands and your weak knees," (Heb 12:12) and make a straight smooth path for your feet to travel. Do this and at the end of the journey, when you knock and ask Our Lord to open the door, He will welcome you warmly.

Peace and blessings,
Deacon Anthony Cioe
