Message of the Week

Reflection for The Third Sunday of Lent Cycle A

About 15 years ago, news organizations from all around the world carried a story about a simple mother who became an international hero. With a tornado bearing down on her Indiana home she huddled in the basement with her 2 children. As her home began to fall around them, she wrapped her children in a blanket and laid her own body over them as a shield from the falling debris. She took the hit of bricks, rocks, lumber and large beams to protect them. In the end, she lost part of both legs but saved her children who were both unharmed.

When the tornado came, she did not run through the house looking to save her jewelry, or her money. She did not look to protect her work, or her car. This is a story about great courage, but it is also a story about a person who emptied herself from everything that the world looks at as valuable to protect what is truly most valuable.

This is the message that we have been hearing throughout lent. Lent is about change. It is about emptying ourselves so that we can be more like our heavenly Father created us to be. It's a time for us to evaluate our goals, hopes, dreams, beliefs, behaviors, and experiences; everything that has contributed to the person who we have become and then ask ourselves. "Am I valuing the wrong things? Is this the person I want to be in the future?" And that is the same message we hear in today's Gospel about Jesus' encounter with the woman at the well.

Jesus' simple request for water starts a very honest dialogue. He is not afraid to speak to her even though popular norms warn against it. And in that conversation, He provides an opportunity for her spiritual thirst to be quenched. Pope Francis wrote that, "Jesus' thirst was not so much for water, but for the encounter with a parched soul. Jesus needed to encounter the Samaritan woman in order to open her heart: he asks for a drink so as to bring to light her own thirst. The woman is moved by this encounter: she asks Jesus several profound questions that we all carry within but often ignore."

Lent is the best time to look within ourselves, to understand our truest spiritual needs, and to ask the Lord's help. Take this opportunity during Lent to look deep within your heart and ask Jesus the profound questions. What am I lacking that only God can provide for me? What are my demons? What is it that I am thirsting for?

May the example of the Samaritan woman encourage us to pray, "Sir, give me this water, so that I may not be thirsty." Give me the drink that will quench my thirst forever!

God bless you.
