HEAVENLY CLEANERS

Do you have an hour or two to spare weekly, once or twice a month?

Our cleaning ministry keeps God's house clean and welcoming.

Tasks include light dusting, vacuuming, and tidying up the pews. It's a rewarding way to serve our parish.

As you know, many hands make light the work. Please think about your availability to volunteer.

To volunteer, please contact the parish office at 856-589-3366.

Sexual abuse is a crime that must be reported, investigated and responded to so that victims are protected and those who commit abuse are removed from ministry.

A special toll-free number has been established to help callers report cases of sexual abuse by priests, deacons, religious, employees and/or volunteers. In accord with state law, cases of child sexual abuse are reported to the New Jersey Division of Child Protection and Permanency.

For information or to inquire about counseling and support services, contact the Victims Assistance Coordinator at 1-800-964-6588.

Message of the Week

Reflection for Trinity Sunday (Year A)

At this point in the Church year, we celebrate feasts that draw us more deeply into the heart of our faith. The Ascension reminded us that Christ did not leave us alone; he promised the Holy Spirit. Pentecost then revealed that gift in power, as the Spirit strengthened the apostles to proclaim the Gospel with courage and joy.

Today, on Trinity Sunday, the Church invites us to reflect on the central mystery of Christian faith: one God in three divine Persons—Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. The Father is Creator, the Son is Redeemer, and the Holy Spirit is Sanctifier and Counselor. As the Catechism teaches, the mystery of the Most Holy Trinity stands at the center of Christian faith and life.

The Trinity is a mystery beyond complete human understanding, yet mystery does not mean unreality. Many of us learned simple comparisons in school—a shamrock with three leaves, or water appearing as liquid, steam, and ice. Those images can help, but they never fully explain God. They only remind us that some truths are real even when they exceed our understanding.

One helpful way to approach this mystery is to consider our own existence. The human body is astonishingly complex: trillions of cells, intricate systems, and a brain of extraordinary power. Most of us could never explain fully how all of it works, yet we do not doubt that it does. In the same way, we may never comprehend the Trinity completely, but we can still believe, worship, and live by this truth.

The Trinity also reveals something essential about God: God is love. The Father loves the Son, the Son loves the Father, and the Holy Spirit is the bond of that perfect divine love. God is not isolation but communion. Because we are made in God's image, we are called to build lives, families, and communities marked by self-giving love.

In today's Gospel we hear the beloved words of John 3:16: "God so loved the world that he gave his only Son, so that everyone who believes in him might not perish but might have eternal life." This is the logic of the Trinity—love poured out for our salvation. And Jesus tells us elsewhere in John's Gospel that he came so that we might have life and have it abundantly. God does not offer us a distant promise only for the future; he offers grace, peace, and fullness of life even now.

The story of the Trinity is the story of God's abundant love for us. The Father created the world in goodness and beauty. The Son entered our brokenness to redeem us. The Holy Spirit remains with the Church to guide, strengthen, and sanctify us. True love is not mere sentiment; it is willing the good of another and giving of oneself for that good. That is how God loves us, and that is how we are called to love one another.

So today the Church asks us not to solve the mystery of the Trinity, but to live it. We are meant to let God's love flow through us so that others may encounter Christ in our words, our mercy, and our faithfulness. When we live in communion with God, we become witnesses to the joy and peace that only divine love can give. I may never fully understand the Trinity, but I know this: the Father surrounds me, the Son walks beside me, and the Holy Spirit dwells within me. For a Christian, that is more than enough reason to trust, to hope, and to love.
