MESSAGE

Dear Friends,

It gives me great pleasure to welcome you to the second edition of the Indian Film Festival in Singapore. The enthusiastic participation by the people reaffirmed the Festival's growing importance as a platform for cultural exchange between India and Singapore.

Building on this effort, the forthcoming version seeks to showcase diversity, depth, and creative excellence of Indian cinema across languages and genres. This year's curated programme features 21 films in eight different Indian languages, reflecting the richness and vibrancy of India's cinematic heritage.

The Indian Film Festival has emerged as a significant occasion for strengthening people-to-people ties. I would like to take this opportunity to express my sincere appreciation to the Singapore Government, Singapore Film Society, Golden Village Cinema, and all partners and stakeholders whose support has made it possible.

I invite you to join us in celebrating the upcoming Film Festival and to experience the creative storytelling of Indian cinema. I wish the Festival every success and am confident that it will offer everyone a rewarding and memorable experience.

KENNETH TAN
CHAIRMAN
SINGAPORE FILM SOCIETY

I am, and I have been, extremely blessed, for more than four decades now, to be able to do what I love, in both the professional as well as personal dimensions of my life. One of the things I treasure the most, is when a new friend or a new collaboration partner continues with me and my team, beyond the first encounter or experience.

The Singapore Film Society worked with the High Commission of India for the first time, in 2025, to jointly organise the inaugural Indian Film Festival in Singapore. The national cinema output and heritage of India, of course, needs no introduction. Its well-deserved reputation for being the most prolific in terms of number and quality of movies has made Indian films among the world's highest-accomplished and widest-released. Why, then, is a film festival still necessary and catalytic? Because, for a country that makes such a vast pool of incredible audio-visual media content, there are still so many great works that audiences in Singapore have not yet had the opportunity to watch on the big screen. Nowadays, there is a proliferation of distribution and consumption platforms of which consumers can avail themselves. However, none can compare with the immersive wondrousness and completeness of the shared viewing experience in a good movie theatre.

We are, therefore, privileged and thrilled to be able to again present our Indian Film Festival in Golden Village cinemas at Suntec City – the place that has become Singapore's go-to venue for the widest variety of great films from all over the world, with facilities and convenience of access that are second to none.

I believe film buffs from all walks of life in Singapore will relate to and be uplifted by the splendid selection of movies representing such a rich and fascinating tapestry of the creative and expressive genius of Indian movie talent.

I warmly wish one and all a most fulfilling time at the Indian Film Festival 2026!

ABOUT THE FESTIVAL

Building on the success of Indian Film Festival (IFF) 2025, its inaugural edition, the Indian Film Festival 2026 returns to Singapore with a dynamic celebration of Indian cinema's diversity and enduring appeal. The festival presents a curated lineup of 21 films across eight Indian languages, spanning multiple decades, genres, and regions.

This year's programme brings together iconic classics and contemporary milestones, showcasing Indian cinema from the 1970s to the present day. The selection includes landmark films featuring some of the most influential and widely recognised figures of Hindi cinema, whose performances have shaped popular culture and cinematic storytelling for generations. The festival also places strong emphasis on regional cinema, presenting acclaimed films in Tamil, Malayalam, Assamese, Gujarati, Marathi, Odia, and Manipuri, in addition to Hindi. Landmark and award-winning titles such as Roja, Soorarai Pottru, Village Rockstars, Hellaro, Gypsy, Aattam, Ananta, and Boong reflect the richness of storytelling traditions across India. Together, these films underline the plurality, depth, and global resonance of Indian cinema, reinforcing the festival's role as a vibrant platform for cultural exchange between India and Singapore.

ABOUT OUR CO-ORGANISERS

High Commission of India in Singapore

The High Commission of India in Singapore serves as the primary diplomatic representation of India in the Republic of Singapore. Dr Shilpak Amuble is the High Commissioner of India to Singapore. The Mission, under the High Commissioner, plays a pivotal role in organising cultural events, festivals, and exhibitions to promote India's rich heritage in Singapore.

Singapore Film Society

The Singapore Film Society (SFS) is the longest-established organiser of film festivals in Singapore. For over 60 years, SFS has conceptualised, curated, planned, programmed, marketed, and helped a wide range of event partners – such as theatrical distributors, cinema exhibitors, diplomatic missions, arts and cultural groups, charities and social service agencies – to showcase a year-round line-up of cutting-edge movies from all over the world.

SFS' flagship events include our European, Japanese, and Singapore Chinese Film Festivals. We also organise national premieres, limited session showcases, advocacy screenings, public dialogues, and so much more. SFS aims to promote film appreciation, bridge the gap between art-house cinema and the commercial film industry, and advocate for film as an important medium for educating and sparking crucial conversations.

ABOUT OUR PROGRAMME PARTNERS

Ministry of Information and Broadcasting of India

The Ministry of Information and Broadcasting is one of the vital Ministries that represents the face of the Government of India in reaching out to the masses. The Ministry is entrusted with the task of disseminating information about government policies, schemes and programmes through the different media of mass communication covering radio, television, press, social media, printed publicity like booklets, posters, outdoor publicity including through traditional modes of communication such as dance, drama, folk recitals, puppet shows etc. The Ministry is also the focal point with regards to policy matters related to the private broadcasting sector, administering the public broadcasting service - Prasar Bharati, multi-media advertising and publicity of the policies and programmes of the Union Government, film promotion and certification and regulation of print media.

National Film Development Corporation of India

National Film Development Corporation of India (NFDC) is a PSU under the Government of India's Ministry of Information and Broadcasting and is responsible for film finance, production, and distribution. NFDC aims to foster excellence in cinema and promote the diversity of its culture by supporting and encouraging films made in various Indian languages.

Over the years NFDC has worked with some of the most acclaimed filmmakers of India including Satyajit Ray, Mira Nair, Aparna Sen, Shyam Benegal, Govind Nihalani, Mrinal Sen, Richard Attenborough, Adoor Gopalkrishnan and Ketan Mehta. NFDC is breaking new grounds by co-producing projects involving public-private partnerships. NFDC also facilitates line production services of shooting in India and animation services of overseas clients.
