Why are non-Catholics prohibited from receiving Holy Communion at Mass?

The Catholic Church's discipline of limiting Holy Communion to Catholics is rooted in its understanding of what the Eucharist is and what receiving it expresses. According to Catholic teaching, the Eucharist is not simply a symbolic meal but the real presence of Jesus Christ—His Body and Blood—made present under the appearance of bread and wine. The Catechism of the Catholic Church states plainly that “the Eucharist is the source and summit of the Christian life” (CCC 1324) and that in it, Christ Himself is “truly, really, and substantially contained” (CCC 1374).

Because of this profound belief, receiving Communion is considered an intimate act of union with Christ and with the Church that safeguards this sacrament. A non-Catholic who does not understand nor profess this belief would not be properly prepared to receive the Eucharist.

Receiving Communion is not only a personal expression of devotion; it is also a public declaration of full unity with the Catholic Church's faith, sacraments, and authority. The Catechism explains that “Communion signifies this union” (CCC 1398). To receive the Eucharist is to say, “I am in full communion with the Catholic Church.” When someone who is not Catholic receives Communion, the Church believes the outward sign would not match the inner reality, since important differences remain—especially regarding the nature of the Eucharist, the papacy, and sacramental life.

This is why the Church sees the restriction not as exclusion but as integrity. The sign must reflect the truth. Just as a wedding ring symbolizes a covenant that already exists, Communion symbolizes a unity that must already be real. If that unity is not yet present, the symbol becomes misleading.

The Catechism also emphasizes the need for proper spiritual disposition: “Anyone conscious of a grave sin must receive the sacrament of Reconciliation before coming to Communion” (CCC 1385). Catholics are formed within a sacramental system that prepares them for this responsibility. The Church cannot assume that non-Catholics share the same preparation or beliefs, and it would be pastorally irresponsible to treat the Eucharist as a gesture of hospitality rather than a sacred mystery.

Interestingly, the Church teaches that this discipline is actually part of its commitment to Christian unity. The Catechism acknowledges that “ecclesial communities derived from the Reformation... have not preserved the proper reality of the Eucharistic mystery” (CCC 1400). This is not a criticism of individuals but a recognition of real theological differences in other faiths. The Church believes that honest acknowledgment of these differences is more respectful than pretending they do not exist. The goal is genuine unity, not symbolic unity.

In short, non-Catholics are not prohibited from Communion because they are unwelcome, but because the Eucharist expresses a unity that Christians do not yet fully share. The Church hopes for the day when all followers of Christ can receive together, but until that unity is achieved, it maintains this discipline to protect the meaning of the sacrament and respect the convictions of all Christians.

January is Respect Life Month
January 22 - Special day of prayer & gathering

In all the Dioceses of the United States, January 22 is observed as a particular day of prayer for the full legal protection of unborn children.

In our diocese, Bishop Rice will be leading a Holy Hour of Eucharistic Adoration with offering two prayer intentions – in the preparation of our Diocesan Eucharistic Congress and special prayers for the sanctity of all human life. The Holy Hour begins at 6 pm.

In preparation for the Diocesan Eucharistic Congress, all are invited to join Bishop Edward Rice for an hour with Jesus.

The Bissell's New Address

Deacon is a little tardy passing on this note of gratitude from Denny and Darlene, but also their new address in Texas. Denny and Darlene share...

As I sit here in Texas with tears in my eyes, "I Remember When" we lived in Forsyth, a town that we loved and felt loved! I remember the good times we had at the Elks Lodge, Our Lady of the Ozarks Church, and with our neighbors. Why? Because of the people! They celebrated with us in the good times, and most importantly, prayed for us and hugged us during our many bouts with sickness. How very special friends you are! We will always have those memories in our hearts and minds.

If you ever head this way, we do have one extra bedroom available on a first come first serve basis.

Our address is 475 River Fair Blvd. Unit 1601, Belton, Texas 76513.

UPCOMING MEN'S AND WOMEN'S CURSILLO WEEKENDS

The Cursillo® Movement pursues two purposes or objectives. The immediate purpose is to provide a conduit for living what is fundamental for being a Christian, namely, the on-going and total conversion of the person. The end purpose is to vertebrae Christianity in society by means of these persons who live what is fundamental for being Christian (the love of God and neighbor) in their daily lives.

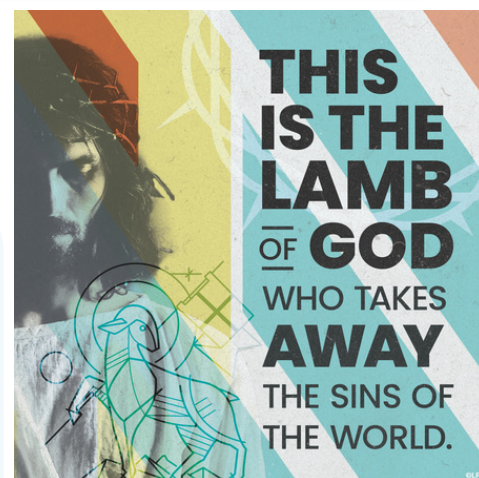

Simply explained, the purpose of the Cursillo Movement is that we become the Good News, and that our actions naturally turn out to be evangelical in our daily lives.

Upcoming Cursillo Weekends in the diocese:

Men's Weekend: Feb. 26-Mar. 1, 2026 in Fredericktown.

Women's Weekends: March 19-22, 2026 in Fredericktown; April 23-26, 2026 in Carthage.

We have Poinsettias desiring adoption

Christmas bells have rung and now is a great time to take home a memory.

Many of our poinsettias are now available for adoption. We will still keep a few around the worship space for another week or so as we await the Feast of the Presentation of the Lord. We have plenty to be adopted this weekend and more to come.

Please, take one or two plants home with you. The plants are in the gathering space on the table next to the restrooms.

DIOCESAN EUCHARISTIC CONGRESS – Registration is open

It's time to sign up for the Diocesan Eucharistic Congress (DEC) that will take place in West Plains on Saturday, August 15, 2026. The cost for registration is only $10 per individual with a maximum cost of $25 per household.

We will travel to DEC by commercial bus/coach. It is a day trip, leaving Branson and Forsyth around 6:00 am in the morning and returning that evening.

Visit the official Diocesan Eucharistic Congress webpage to access the registration portal at <https://dioscg.org/diocesan-eucharistic-congress>.

Support the collection for the Church in Latin America 2nd Collection - Sunday, January 25

The bishops of the United States established this annual collection as a practical expression of unity and love for their brothers and sisters in Central and South America and the islands of the Caribbean. For more than 60 years, Catholics in the U.S. have answered the invitation to "share the faith" by supporting pastoral ministries that strengthen the Church in the present day and help pass on the Gospel to future generation.

Share your faith by supporting this collection.
