

Salli Cohen – biography

V1_157 words

Salli Cohen is a strategist, storyteller and a quiet force, re-imagining what policy should be. With over 30 years' experience working with leaders across governments, First Nations organisations, for-purpose and private sectors, she has shaped change where it counts, at the intersection of people, leadership and possibility.

As a speaker and author of 'Rollercoaster. How to be a bloody good policy officer', Salli brings energy, humanity and humour to the stage, showing that policy is not dry or abstract, rather alive, lived, felt and fought for. She ignites audiences with clarity and courage, weaving together lived experience, bold stories and practical tools leaders can use immediately.

Fiercely committed to making things fairer and better, Salli equips leaders with the head to think it through, the heart to feel what matters, and the guts to commit without fear of favour. With joy and conviction, she reminds us that policy is a force for fairness, value and bold possibility.

V2_107 words

Salli Cohen is a strategist, storyteller and keynote speaker who re-imagines what policy should be. With over 30 years' experience working with leaders across governments, First Nations organisations, for-purpose and private sectors, she knows deeply what policy truly is; it is people's lives, relationships and futures.

Author of 'Rollercoaster. How to be a bloody good policy officer', Salli brings energy, humanity and sharp insight to audiences worldwide. She equips leaders with courage and compassion to move from complexity to clarity, from harm to possibility. Joyful, wise and fiercely committed, she shows that with head, heart and guts, policy becomes a force for fairness, value and bold possibility.

V3_61 words

Salli Cohen is a strategist, storyteller and speaker with over 30 years' experience working with leaders across governments, and the First Nations, for-purpose and private sectors. Author of 'Rollercoaster. How to be a bloody good policy officer', she brings energy, joy and courage to every stage, showing leaders how to turn policy into a force for fairness, possibility and lasting impact.

V4_37 words

With over 30 years' experience working alongside government, First Nations, for-purpose and private sector leaders, Salli Cohen is a strategist, storyteller, author and keynote speaker who brings joy, courage and clarity to re-imagining what policy should be.

Contact

E: hello@sallicohenspeaks.com

M: (+61) 042 7744 276

W: www.sallicohenspeaks.com

In: linkedin.com/in/salli-cohen-the-policy-room