The Northern Story

Northern Casket is Canada's premiere, independent manufacturer of hand-crafted, natural wood caskets.

The company commenced operation in 1926, when five businessmen pooled their knowledge and resources to launch what would become Northern. The chief partners included a funeral director, James Mackey, and a merchant, Charles Ferguson. They shaped the company and guided it during the early years. In 1933, the Ferguson family became the sole owners of what continues as a family operated business today. Charles' sons Donald and Eric joined their father in 1946 and assumed ownership in 1959. They managed the company until 1987, when it was purchased by Donald's son Gordon. His sons Caley and Chris became shareholders in 2017.

The principles by which Northern's founders operated were, "to produce fine, quality products and offer them at the best price possible". Those principles remain true to the company's operation today. In keeping with demand for Canadian made products, the company operates in a 84,000 square feet manufacturing facility. It employs both skilled craftspeople and technology to maintain high production standards. Casket construction methods and designs have changed over the years to ensure Northern's products are in keeping with the expectations of both funeral service providers and families. Several casket designs and innovations are unique to Northern. Additionally, the company offers special purpose products that competitors do not provide.

As part of it's continued commitment to better serve our clients, on October 1, 2025, NorthUrn merged with Northern Casket under the Northern Casket name. This unification brings both divisions together under one trusted banner, simplifying ordering, invoicing, and communication through a single point of contact. By streamlining operations, they are able to reduce duplication, improve turnaround times, and focus even more on delivering exceptional service, while maintaining the same high-quality products and dependable support our partners have come to expect.

Northern remains 100% Canadian owned and is still rooted in the rural community it started in Lindsay, Ontario. Four generations and a century later, Northern Casket is immensely proud of its heritage and its efforts to remain Canada's leading independent manufacturer and supplier of funeral care products.

Indigenous Casket Conversion

We at Northern Casket respectfully and reverently acknowledge that The City of Kawartha Lakes is situated on the traditional territory of the Michi Saagiig Anishinaabeg (Mississauga) and is covered by the Williams Treaties of 1923, as well as Treaty 20 (1818). This area has been inhabited by Indigenous peoples for over 10,000 years, with a rich history of stewardship by the Seven Williams Treaties First Nations. We are honoured to be with those that live work and play on this land and choose to call this home. We commit to learning the truth as we work toward reconciliation.

We recognize the importance of blankets to the First Nations and Metis people of Canada. It is customary for some indigenous people to use blankets for ceremonial purposes. Blankets with varying patterns, colours, and symbols are common. Based on feedback from some customers, we are pleased to present a limited selection for consideration by indigenous people in certain regions. This continues our tradition of innovation and quality.

Patterned blankets are unique to each indigenous community. Blankets are used in birth, marriage and death ceremonies. They represent honour and respect.

A Spirit Bag is included with each Patterned Blanket Kit. The Spirit Bag will typically hold keepsakes, memorials, messages, and a talisman. It may be placed inside the casket.

Patterned Blanket Kits

- 1 HEAD PANEL The underlid head panel is beautifully appointed with patterned material that mirrors both the pillow and blanket. It is a fixed panel that provides added protection
- 2 INTERIOR PILLOW A removable pillow is wrapped in the same patterned material. The pillow ensures stability and an element of comfort.
- 3 BLANKET WRAP Finally, the loose blanket in the matching pattern can be placed across an open or closed casket. The blanket denotes added warmth.

Enviro-Casket™	39
Nature's Way®	41
Passages®	42

We offer the only green alternative to traditional caskets.

In order to perfect the Enviro-Casket™, a number of elements contained in conventional caskets had to be eliminated while ensuring that functional properties of the casket were maintained.

The elimination of metal was the most obvious of our challenges. Metal used for handles in conventional caskets is a ferrous metal stamp or cast to shape and finished with conventional lacquers and varnishes which contain a number of petrochemicals. Producing a wood equivalent was relatively easy, but creating a wood handle that met the same functionality was most difficult. Northern Casket's patent pending "Non-Lift" 100% wood swing bar handle is a triumph within the industry. Secondary metals, such as hinges, nails, catches, brackets, staples, all presented us with unique challenges, all of which were solved... some using traditional methods, others using new ingenuities.

Enviro-Casket™ is finished in 100% natural oil, using natural pigment applied in three involved and critical stages.

This process allows for retention of an attractive finish without the use of petrochemicals. This finish is a breakthrough for the casket industry in the true spirit of conservation.

The interior of Enviro-Casket™ is made from cotton and cellulose materials, eliminating petrochemical based materials contained in conventional caskets such as rayon, nylon, acetates, plastics and polymers.

Bedding for Enviro-Casket™ is provided by using 100% wood excelsior covered by 100% cotton mattress cover. Enviro-Casket™ uses 100% cotton for pillow stuffing to provide superior function in this area as well.

Northern Casket is proud to present Enviro-Casket™, an alternative that truly respects the conservation concerns of today and for the future.
