

Oren Art Gallery Refund Policy

We politely remind our customers that we operate a NO REFUND or exchange policy at the gallery unless the item purchased is damaged.

Each item is carefully examined before leaving the gallery for any signs of damage, in which case, the item in question will be immediately withdrawn from sale.

Oren art gallery is a small independent business that is a platform for several artists selling independently through the gallery as a collective.

A change of mind is unfortunately not considered a reason for return or exchange. We hope you, as our valued customers understand why we have implemented this policy.
