Franchetti S.p.A.
Franchetti is an international group specializing in advanced diagnostics, engineering and predictive management of infrastructure. Founded in 2013 in Arzignano (VI), the Group combines specialist engineering expertise with proprietary technologies to support infrastructure concessionaires, operators and owners in understanding, assessing and managing their assets over time.
Its activities include inspection and diagnostics, structural assessment, design of interventions, digitalization and BIM, as well as technology solutions for predictive maintenance planning. Franchetti operates internationally across the main transport infrastructure sectors and has gained experience on more than 50,000 equivalent motorway and railway bridges.
In this context, Franchetti has developed "kTema", a proprietary suite that integrates advanced technologies, artificial intelligence and data analytics to support the management of the entire infrastructure life cycle. The platform makes it possible to organize and interpret data from inspection activities, support the assessment of asset conditions, plan interventions and optimize maintenance and worksite activities.
