GENERAL PRICE LIST

These prices are effective July 1, 2025, and subject to change.

The goods and services shown herein are those we can provide to our clients. You may choose only the items you desire. If legal or other requirements mean that you must buy any items you did not specifically ask for, we will explain the reason in writing on the statement we provide describing the funeral goods and services you selected.

Getting Through Arrangements

We understand how difficult this time may be for you and your family. The death of a relative or friend can be one of the most stressful events in your life. It is a time when you are dealing with your own emotions, those of others, and the gathering of family and friends.

It is also a time when you will have to make a number of decisions. To help, we have designed an easier way to guide you through the arrangement process as clearly and simply as we can.

Those who have died were individuals—people whose lives and personalities affected those around them in a unique way. We offer a wide range of options that will allow you to honor life in all its individuality and to reflect on the impact it made on others.

We are honored to be chosen to help you, your family, and friends by creating an appropriate and meaningful Celebration of Life for the one you love so much. We will honor the trust placed in us by giving you our very best in an effort to make these times much easier for you.

DECISION

BURIAL | CREMATION

While burial or cremation is an initial decision, each has various options available. Some final form of disposition must be decided upon.

Burial

The body can be buried in the ground, at sea, in a green or eco-friendly manner, or placed in a crypt

Cremation

The ashes can be buried in the ground, at sea, or placed in a crypt, divided among family, spread in a location of significance

REFLECTION

GATHER | COMMEMORATE

Reflecting on the life of the deceased can take many forms. Ceremonies and events can include an informal gathering of family and friends, a formal ceremony or recognition in some form that extends over the long term. Ceremonies can be religious or non-religious, and venue choices for these can be as wide ranging as the options for designing them.

Gather

Gathering, visitation, reception of family, friends, and guests for mutual support, sharing memories and condolences

Commemorate

Religious or non-religious service, remembrance, ceremony, and celebration, as part of the healing process

These events can take place privately or publicly, within our facility, at a church, temple, cemetery, or any other place of public accommodation important to the family

The deceased may be present in a casket, urn, photo(s), or video, through music or selected readings, in their connection to a specific location, or via a more formal commemorative ceremony

Except in certain special cases, embalming is not required by law. Embalming may be necessary, however, if you select specific funeral arrangements, such as a funeral with viewing. If you do not want embalming, you usually have the right to choose an arrangement that does not require you to pay for it, such as a non-ceremonial cremation or burial.

No human remains may remain unburied or uncremated in Pennsylvania for more than 24 hours unless embalmed, encased in a sealed container or refrigerated (49 PA Code §13.201)

CEREMONIAL OPTIONS

Ceremonial options are designed specifically for those who select cremation. They consist of two parts: the shell and the cremation insert. The shell may have been used previously and may be used again. The insert is new each time, as it is cremated efficiently after services. Capella and Aria are full caskets. Chaise Bed is a partial casket with no lid intended for private identification viewings. Selecting one of these options for burial means you understand that the burial will take place in the insert portion only, not the shell.

Capella cherry velvet insert	750
Aria hardwood crepe insert	650
Chaise Bed cherry shroud insert	375

*Caskets manufactured by Batesville Casket Company
Alternative and Ceremonial Containers manufactured by Starmark®*

OUTER BURIAL ENCLOSURES

In most areas of the country, state or local law does not require purchasing a container to surround a casket in a grave. However, many cemeteries require that you have such a container to support the weight of the earth to maintain level, solid ground. Either a burial vault or grave liner will satisfy this requirement.
