To whom it may concern,

I am writing this letter to recommend Kim Stanley as a certified infant care specialist. She worked with us for 12 weeks taking care of our newborn baby boy, Arav. She was excellent in every aspect of her job, and we are very grateful for her service.

Kim was very kind and caring towards our son and to me as a new mother. She always treated him with love and respect, and made sure he was comfortable, safe, and happy. She was punctual and never late and was flexible to adapt to the schedule we requested. She was very professional and reliable, and always communicated with us clearly and promptly.

Kim was also very thoughtful and knowledgeable in her suggestions and advice. She often researched the issues that we were having, such as breastfeeding, sleep training, colic, etc., and shared with us the best practices and tips from reputable sources. She also taught us tricks from her years of caring for newborns, such as how to swaddle, burp, soothe, and stimulate our baby. She was always willing to learn new things and improve her skills.

Kim was not only our infant care specialist, but also our friend and support system. She still checks in on our son to this day. We highly recommend Kim to anyone who is looking for a qualified, experienced, and compassionate infant care specialist. She is truly a gem, and we are lucky to have met her.

Sincerely,

Arpi Lal
