To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to recommend Kim Stanley as an exceptional night nurse and newborn care specialist. She has been caring for our daughter, Estée, during the newborn period, and her support has been invaluable to our family.

From the very beginning, Kim combined genuine warmth with calm professionalism. She is attentive, steady, and reassuring, which matters enormously in the middle of the night when new parents are tired and a baby's needs can change quickly. She consistently demonstrates excellent judgment and a strong ability to prioritize safety, comfort, and healthy routines.

What sets Kim apart is her level of care and attention to detail. She keeps thorough notes, tracks patterns thoughtfully, and communicates clearly and proactively. She anticipates what will be helpful, explains what she is seeing, and offers practical suggestions in a way that is supportive, not rigid. She also has a deep interest in infant care and development and is always learning. When I have questions, she often has an informed answer immediately and, if something requires additional research, she follows up with credible guidance and resources, including book recommendations.

Equally important, she is a true partner. She respects the parents' preferences, adapts easily to the household, and brings a calm presence that makes the entire home feel more secure. She is dependable, punctual, and trustworthy, and she treats our daughter with obvious affection and tenderness.

I recommend Kim Stanley without reservation. Any family would be lucky to have her caring for their baby, and I would gladly work with her again.

Sincerely,
Maëlle Gavet
