Sermon: Education

Summary: Education isn't just learning facts and memorizing stories, although it often includes those. It's forming a way we think and live, it impacts the choices we make. As we focus on education today, we will look at the Biblical basis for intergenerational relationships.

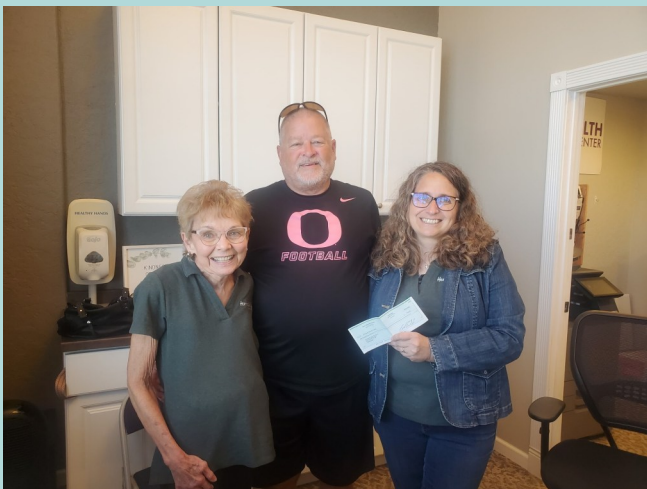

Discussion Questions:

- Who have been some of the people that have taught you the most about following Jesus?
- What have you learned from generations older than you? Younger?
- Why is it important to learn from people different from yourself?
- What can you share with others?
