Pathfinder Ministry:

As members of the Seventh-day Adventist Church, we strongly encourage our youth to participate in Pathfinder activities. Pathfinders is more than a church club — it's a movement that helps children and teens:

- Grow in spiritual maturity
- Develop life skills and leadership
- Learn about community service and nature stewardship
- Build strong character and faith in Jesus

Building the Next Generation of Leaders

SULADS Canada is working closely with local churches and communities to support youth in joining and staying active in their Pathfinder clubs. We believe this ministry is key in nurturing young missionaries and future leaders.

Let's empower our youth to stand firm in their faith and become instruments of God's love.

What is Pathfinding?

Pathfinding is a Christ-centred, church-sponsored youth ministry within the Seventh-day Adventist Church, designed to help young people ages 10 to 15 grow in their relationship with God while developing life skills, leadership, and a heart for service.

Much like Scouts, but rooted in Christian values, Pathfinders offers a structured, adventurous, and spiritual programme that combines fun with faith.

Why Should Youth Join?

- Builds Christian character and self-discipline
- Fosters a personal relationship with Jesus
- Encourages friendship, mentorship, and positive peer support
- Provides hands-on learning and fun experiences
- Prepares youth for future service in the church and community

A Ministry for Today and the Future

Pathfinding is a valuable part of the church's mission. It strengthens the youth spiritually and socially and builds a foundation that will guide them for life.

At SULADS Canada, we encourage all eligible youth and their families to get involved in their local Pathfinder Club. It's a journey of discovery — of self, of service, and of the Saviour.
