

Remember Me Rose Garden

A Living Tribute to Flight 93

Honoring the Crew and Passengers of United Flight 93

The Remember Me Rose Garden is a living tribute to the crew and passengers aboard United Flight 93, who sacrificed their own lives to save countless others in a remote field in Shanksville, PA, during the 9/11 attack on America.

Situated just ¼-mile east of the entrance to the Flight 93 National Memorial, the Remember Me Rose Garden offers a tranquil setting for remembrance, prayer, meditation, and healing.

The 13-acre site was donated by the Families of the Heroes of Flight 93 in 2009 for the construction of the Remember Me Rose Garden – seeding the creation of a living memorial to honor their loved ones.

The Remember Me Rose Garden features:

-  A large, floral compass design spanning 280 feet
-  A 30-foot fountain and reflecting pond in the center of the compass
-  40 memorial stones engraved with each of the names of the heroes of Flight 93
-  400+ award-winning "Julie Andrews" pink rose bushes, named for the iconic actress and performer
-  2,300 flowering perennials, 100 Heritage rose bushes, and 1.5 acres of wildflowers
-  A 16-foot-tall wooden cross – the first memorial erected at the actual Flight 93 crash site
-  A ½-mile walking trail that nearly encircles the site, with benches placed intermittently for rest and prayer
-  Spring, summer and fall blooms

The Cross

Looking over the Rose Garden stands a 16-foot cross — the first memorial erected at the Flight 93 crash site to offer comfort to the families of the heroes.

Ryan's Trail

Enjoy "Ryan's Trail" — conceived and constructed by the late Ryan Cenk, whose Eagle Scout Project furnished all the teakwood benches thoughtfully arranged along a 1/2-mile trail — ideal for reflection, rest, and meditation.

The Family Rock

Near the entrance stands a massive rock that gratefully acknowledges the donation of the Rose Garden's property by "The Families of Flight 93," a nonprofit corporation formed by the families of the fallen heroes.

Volunteers

Volunteers are always needed to maintain and grow this beautiful space! Please visit our website or Facebook page for more information.
