

Carveth Village

2024

This amaryllis was a beautiful way to start February. The blooms continued throughout the month so anyone who walked by her room could enjoy a colorful peek at what colors may begin blooming this month.

Here is a four-generation family picture. Meet Thressa's 165th great grandchild.

Before Valentine's Day, the VanRhee family came over and assisted residents in making Valentines cards for Veterans. Together they created over 50 cards.

Fat Tuesday was not missed here!

We offered a variety of Paczkis and enjoyed them during a concert with Chris Sloan.

Meet our special Valentines. We welcomed TTES to join us for a prime rib meal and delectable red velvet cheesecake for dessert. Check Facebook for more pictures of our day.

If you threw a birthday party for those who share your same birthday; who would be there? Dead or Alive

Spring

Today is the day when bold kites fly,
When cumulus clouds roar across the sky.
When robins return, when children
cheer,
When light rain beckons spring to appear.
Today is the day when daffodils
bloom,
Which children pick to fill the room,
Today is the day when grasses green,
When leaves burst forth for spring to be seen.

- Robert McCracken

How close will they be? This is their projected forecast for 49333.

Funnies Page

A priest and a nun were lost in a snowstorm. After a while, they came upon a small cabin. Being exhausted, they prepared to go to sleep. There was a stack of blankets in the corner and a sleeping bag on the floor but only one bed. Being a gentleman, the priest said, "Sister, you sleep on the bed. I'll sleep on the floor in the sleeping bag." Just as he got zipped up in the bag and was beginning to fall asleep, the nun said, "Father, I'm cold." He unzipped the sleeping bag, got up, got a blanket, and put it on her. Once again, he got into the sleeping bag, zipped it up and started to drift off to sleep when the nun once again said, "Father, I'm still very cold." He unzipped the bag, got up again, put another blanket on her and got into his sleeping bag once again. Just as his eyes closed, she said, "Father, I'm sooooo cold." This time, he remained there and said, "Sister, I have an idea. We're out here in the wilderness where no one will ever know what happened. Let's pretend we're married." The nun purred, "That's fine by me."

To which the priest yelled back, "Get up and get your own stupid blanket!"

When I was a proofreader, I shared with my coworkers this example to illustrate how writing can skew based on gender: A professor wrote on the blackboard, "Woman without her man is nothing." The students were then instructed to insert the proper punctuation. The men wrote, "Woman, without her man, is nothing." The women wrote, "Woman! Without her, man is nothing." —Susan Allen

My 11-year-old takes his homework seriously. One question required him to write a sentence using the word version. His sentence: "Have you heard of the version Mary?"

My daughter was anxious to do some landscaping at her new home, but then she called up sounding discouraged.

"I don't think I'll ever get these flowers planted," she moaned. "It says to plant in full sun, but it's been cloudy for four days."

When is it impossible to plant flowers?

When you haven't botany.
