This exceptional renovation project honored the legacy of the historic 1860 farmhouse once owned by Father Sorin. Restoring the Past

Goshen, IN

This full home renovation was designed to look as though it had always been part of the original structure. The project included a major demolition, tearing down an outdated detached garage and rebuilding that end of the home to add a new attached garage—better suited for Indiana winters. Inside, the home was completely gutted, transforming the once segmented first floor into an open-concept layout ideal for a family of four. Both upper and lower levels were fully restored, blending timeless character with modern functionality.

COVERDALE RETREAT

Located in southern Michigan this modern home is a sight to see. Inside, the home features breathtaking lake views throughout, a large open floor plan with an eye-catching fireplace shared by the kitchen and living room that makes a striking impression as you walk into the home. In addition, this home makes heavy use of multiple outdoor living spaces to ensure the full benefits of lake living.
