FRIDAY, OCTOBER 31st

The Parish Office will be closed on Friday, October 31st, for a diocesan holiday in observance of All Saints Day.

Saturday, November 1st, All Saints Day, is not designated as a Holy Day of Obligation this year. However, the Adoration Chapel and Church will be available for personal prayer throughout the day.

During the month of November, we remember in a special way all our beloved dead. The Book of the Faithful Departed will be available in front of the altar throughout the month. You are invited to write the names of your deceased loved ones in this book so that they may be remembered in our prayers and at Mass during this holy month of remembrance.

THIS WEEK'S GOSPEL FOCUS

October 26, 2025

Thirtieth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Luke 18:9-14

Every now and then readers of these reflections write letters in which they object to something. Years ago, this Gospel of Luke 18 prompted such an email. A man wrote to me: "I find it deeply offensive that you suggest we are still sinners once we are God's sons and daughters." His objection stirred in me a profound awareness of the paradox at the heart of our faith. Are we sinners or beloved children of God?

In this Gospel (Luke 18:9-14), a tax collector appears as one who has missed the mark. His sins have isolated him. His breast-beating is not an act of self-flagellation for pride's sake but a heartfelt admission of his failure and unworthiness. Remarkably, Jesus honors the candid humility of the parable's penitent. Why? Because we are always in need of mercy, always. But even more, perhaps because on the cross, Jesus will fully embrace a similar place of humiliation and rejection. He will enter into the most shameful, offensive place of the sinner so that we might "go home justified."

There is a sacred tension in admitting that we are sinners and yet have profound hope. We are beloved sons and daughters of God, growing precisely through our honest acceptance of failure. When we cry, "Have mercy on us," during Mass or when we repeat the "Jesus Prayer" in quiet moments, or in the confessional, we embrace our imperfections as fertile ground for divine grace. In doing so, we follow Christ's example — finding true exaltation in the humble acknowledgment of our human frailty.

— Father John Muir

TIM CONROY VISIT

John Paul II Catholic School's English students recently had the special opportunity to host Tim Conroy, poet and brother of Pat Conroy, and Jonathan Haupt, executive director of the Pat Conroy Literary Center, for a literary panel discussion. Their visit served as a meaningful conclusion to recent class studies, bringing books and ideas to life through storytelling and reflection. Students in Wendy Lacombe's class read Educated by Tara Westover, exploring themes of perseverance and the power of learning. Jeanie Wilks' senior class read Pat Conroy's The Water Is Wide, a beloved Lowcountry classic that highlights education's ability to transform lives. After completing their research projects, students engaged in a rich conversation with the guests about Pat Conroy's legacy and the role of literature in inspiring change. "Hearing directly from those who knew Pat Conroy gave our students a deeper connection to the work," said Mrs. Wilks. Mrs. Lacombe added, "It showed them how personal stories can shape public conversations." The visit reflected JP II's commitment to faith, critical thinking, and meaningful engagement with the world—encouraging students to see themselves as both learners and storytellers who can make a difference.

2026-27 School Application & Financial Aid Are NOW OPEN. Ready to see how JP II combines academic excellence, athletic achievement, artistic sensibility, and a focus on safety to create a nurturing environment?
