

Board Director (Operations & Growth) – Canadian Young Judaea (CYJ)

Canadian Young Judaea (CYJ) is one of Canada's leading Jewish youth movements, shaping the next generation of leaders through transformative summer camp experiences, Israel programs, and year-round community engagement.

After several years of rebuilding, CYJ is now entering a new phase defined by growth, ambition, and renewed momentum. With a clear mandate to significantly expand its reach and impact, the organization is investing in the leadership and capabilities required to scale.

We are seeking a Board Director focused on Operations & Growth to help translate this ambition into execution.

The Opportunity

CYJ is a lean organization with significant upside.

As it grows, operational discipline and thoughtful scaling will be critical.

This role is for someone who enjoys building, structuring, and driving progress.

As a Board Director focused on operations and growth, you will:

- Support the scaling of CYJ's camp and program operations
- Help bring structure and clarity to key initiatives and priorities
- Provide practical guidance on execution, planning, and performance
- Work with leadership to ensure initiatives move from idea to reality

This is an ideal role for someone who wants to apply an operator mindset in a mission-driven context.

Who You Are

You are someone who:

- Has experience in operations, consulting, or building organizations
- Is comfortable bringing structure to ambiguity
- Balances strategic thinking with a bias toward execution
- Is willing to roll up your sleeves when needed

You may come from a corporate, startup, or consulting background.

What matters most is your ability to help organizations get things done.

Expectations

- Attend ~8 Board meetings annually
- Contribute actively to key initiatives and committees
- Support leadership in advancing operational priorities
- Participate in fundraising efforts alongside the broader Board

Board members are expected to make an annual personal contribution and to actively support CYJ's growth.

Why CYJ

CYJ is entering a period where execution will define its success.

With the right operational leadership, it has the opportunity to build something durable, scalable, and deeply impactful.

This is a chance to:

- Apply your skills in a high-impact, mission-driven environment
  - Work with a hands-on, engaged Board
  - Help shape the future of a growing organization
