🔥 Fire Prevention Week is a great time to talk about an often-overlooked fire risk: lithium-ion batteries.

From power tools to e-bikes and everyday electronics, lithium-ion batteries are part of our daily lives—but damaged or improperly handled batteries can create serious fire risks.

NFPA recommends following safe charging practices and keeping lithium-ion batteries out of places where they could create a fire hazard.

And when it comes to your dumpster, batteries don't belong there. 🗑️⚠️ Always check with your local disposal or recycling facility for the proper way to dispose of them.

A little extra care can go a long way toward keeping your home, job site, and community safer. ❤️

👤 Don't Let Junk Haunt You!

That pile of renovation debris isn't going to disappear on its own. 😊

Whether you're tackling a home remodel, tearing out an old deck, replacing a roof, or taking on another big project, having a dumpster on-site gives you a convenient place to contain the debris as you work. 🗑️

Don't let the mess follow you into Halloween! Give your local redbox+ Dumpsters team a call or text when you're ready to get the debris out of the way. 👤

👤 Some job site habits are scarier than others.

Overloaded dumpsters, blocked walkways, improper waste disposal, and putting off cleanup can all create unnecessary safety risks on the job site.

Check out our graphic for a few “scary” habits to watch out for—and help keep your crew and project safe this October! 🚧🚧

👤 Some things are just too scary for the dumpster!

Not everything belongs in a roll-off dumpster. Certain materials, like tires, motor oil, fuel, batteries, and asbestos, may require special handling or disposal.

Not sure if something can go in your dumpster? Reach out! We're happy to help you know what to expect. 🗑️

♥ Today, we're recognizing the first responders who answer the call when their communities need them most.

Thank you to the firefighters, EMTs, paramedics, police officers, and all the first responders who serve with courage, dedication, and compassion.

We're grateful for all that you do to help keep our communities safe. ♥🇺🇸

🎃 No tricks, just treats—and maybe a little cleanup after Halloween! 🧸🗑️

We hope your Halloween is filled with plenty of treats, fun memories, and maybe just a little less cleanup than you expected. 😊

Have a safe and spook-tacular Halloween from your local redbox+ Dumpsters team! 🎃🧸
