A DOGZ TALE...

On April 12th, 2011, Dogz was born!

DOGZ was born when Long Beach locals Rod Frontino and Norm Turley acquired the former Belmont Station in January 2011. The location had operated primarily as a Mexican restaurant and bar for more than 25 years. After completely remodeling the space, they opened DOGZ Bar & Grill on April 12, 2011. Their goal was to create a neighborhood bar and grill that reflected the relaxed, friendly culture of Belmont Shore.

The menu combined specialty hot dogs and sausages with plenty of "NOT DOGZ," while preserving several of the Mexican classics that had been popular at the location for decades when it was Belmont Station. They also introduced the Blizzard Beer system, serving beer at 29 degrees "Too Cold to Hold." That is why the menu still has its unusual mix of gourmet DOGZ, pub favorites and traditional Mexican dishes.
