POINTS FOR REFLECTION

- Just over three months ago, on Ash Wednesday, we began a journey from darkness to light, from sin to salvation, from death to new life. Lent began in winter, when days were short and darkness exceeded light. We celebrate the entire season of Easter during spring, when days grow longer and light dominates the day. The readings from Ash Wednesday called us to repentance; when imparting the Holy Spirit, Jesus gives his disciples the power to forgive. On Ash Wednesday we were reminded that we will return to dust, but on Easter morning we beheld the promise of the Resurrection. In a sense, our journey is now complete. We are now called to witness to the Risen Lord and the Holy Spirit as we accompany others on their journeys from darkness, sin, and death, to light, salvation, and new life.
- The accounts of the coming of the Holy Spirit given by Luke in Acts and by John in his Gospel are markedly different. In John's Gospel, Jesus gives his disciples the Holy Spirit himself the first time he appears to them after the Resurrection. In Acts, the Holy Spirit descends upon the disciples after Jesus has ascended to heaven. In John, the Holy Spirit arrives on the soft breath of Jesus. In Luke, it's on a strong driving wind. In John, the disciples are silent. In Acts, the disciples immediately begin to speak in tongues loud enough to be heard outside. Why the contradictions? It might help to think of the coming of the Holy Spirit as a process, in stages, with the disciples slowly realizing the power they'd been given. Indeed, the Holy Spirit descended upon most of us in infancy, when we could not know what was happening, but appears again and again in different ways, with different gifts and different workings, throughout our whole life.
- In between wishing his disciples peace and bestowing on them the Holy Spirit, Jesus did one other thing: he showed them his wounds. The disciples may have thought that this was only to prove to them that it was him, but it may have also been to show them that even with his glorified body the wounds remain. The wounds are a part of him now. The risen Lord is wounded, as are we all.

Question of the Day

Have I felt the Holy Spirit's movement in my life in both powerful and gentle ways?

STEWARDSHIP QUOTES:

- Do we ever take the initiative in giving our time, talent and treasure, or do we always wait to be asked?
- "Give and gifts will be given to you; a good measure, packaged together, shaken down, and overflowing, will be poured into your lap. For the measure with which you measure will in return be measured out to you." (Luke 6:38)

Thank you

On behalf of the coordinators of the OLPH Food Pantry, I would like to thank all of you who contribute to the OLPH pantry. Your generosity and concern for those in our community who don't have food security is a beautiful sign of God's love within you.

We are feeding more and more people each month, so your contributions are critical to our ability to meet the demand. As we work hard to keep our shelves stocked with food, we are experiencing first hand that God always provides. Please continue to serve our fellow parishioners and community members by donating to the OLPH Pantry. We ask that you please check the "best buy" dates on the food that you contribute.

Along with the food, we accept gently used grocery bags the size of which you'd get from Foodland, Safeway, Longs. Anything bigger or smaller than these bags, we are not able to make use of. Cloth shopping bags are also accepted.

As we share in the mutual goal that God has placed on our hearts, let us also pray for this ministry and those who volunteer in it. If you are interested in volunteering, please contact the church office.

MASTER PLAN UPDATE

As the Diocese continues the financial system conversions there are the gradual report updates received by the Parish. Progress continues albeit with several rain event interruptions. We are currently preparing for 5 separate Slab on Grade (SOG) Pours with control joints/saw cuts to prevent the floors from cracking. Concrete will then be ground & polished to show some of the aggregate. The Sanctuary, Baptismal Font, and possibly the center aisle will have a Mapei floor coating applied over the concrete.

Glu Lam Beam sanding & staining has commenced with roof sheathing, roofing and fireproofing to follow. Simultaneously fire sprinklers, HVAC ducting & RTU AC curbs are being installed. This will be followed by the rough-in of lighting, audio visual speakers, and cameras.

This will be followed by DensGlass/Flashings around the metal stud light gauge framing for the windows and the completions of the data com, electrical, and unisex restrooms. Pews, celebrant chairs, prie dieu, podium, and ambry is scheduled to arrive and installed in the July-August time frame. Interior work will take place over the next few months following that.
