SUPPLY- ONLY VS FLAT-PACK

Understand the Process and Your Responsibilities

What's the Difference Between Supply-Only and Flat-Packs?

Choosing the right cabinetry service depends on your project needs:

- Supply-Only: Cabinetry comes fully-assembled and ready for installation
- Flat-Pack: Cabinets are provided in a kit format, requiring assembly before installation.

Both options are designed for flexibility, allowing you to take control of your project, and manage installation at your convenience.

All measurements, design and installations are the full responsibility of you, our client. To learn more about your obligations and our processes, please read this information guide.

SUPPLY- ONLY PROCESS

We aim to provide a seamless experience for clients choosing our Supply-Only cabinetry service. Below is an outline of the process, ensuring transparency and efficiency from start to finish.

1. Client-Supplied Design + Measurements – Accuracy is critical, as cabinetry is built to these specifications.
2. Quotation + Acceptance – Review pricing and scope before approving.
3. Final Cabinetry Design Review – Client must verify all details before approval—changes cannot be made after acceptance.
4. Production Scheduling – Once approved, the job is programmed and released into production.
5. Lead-Time Consideration – Timelines depend on workload; discuss expectations with your consultant before approval.
6. Completion + Collection/Delivery – We will contact you to arrange pick-up or delivery.
7. Payment – Full payment is required before pick-up or delivery.

FLAT-PACK PROCESS

We aim to provide a seamless experience for clients choosing our Flat-Pack cabinetry service. Below is an outline of the process, ensuring transparency and efficiency from start to finish.

1. Client-Supplied Design + Measurements – Accuracy is critical, as cabinetry is cut to these specifications.
2. Quotation + Acceptance – Review pricing and scope before approving.
3. Final Cabinetry Design Review – Client must verify all details before approval—changes cannot be made after acceptance.
4. Production Scheduling – Once approved, the job is programmed and released into production.
5. Lead-Time Consideration – Flat-Pack lead times range from 6-12 weeks (after approved plans) and depending on workload. Discuss expectations before approval.
6. Completion + Collection/Delivery – We will contact you to arrange pick-up or delivery.
7. Payment – Full payment is required before pick-up or delivery.

DISCLAIMERS

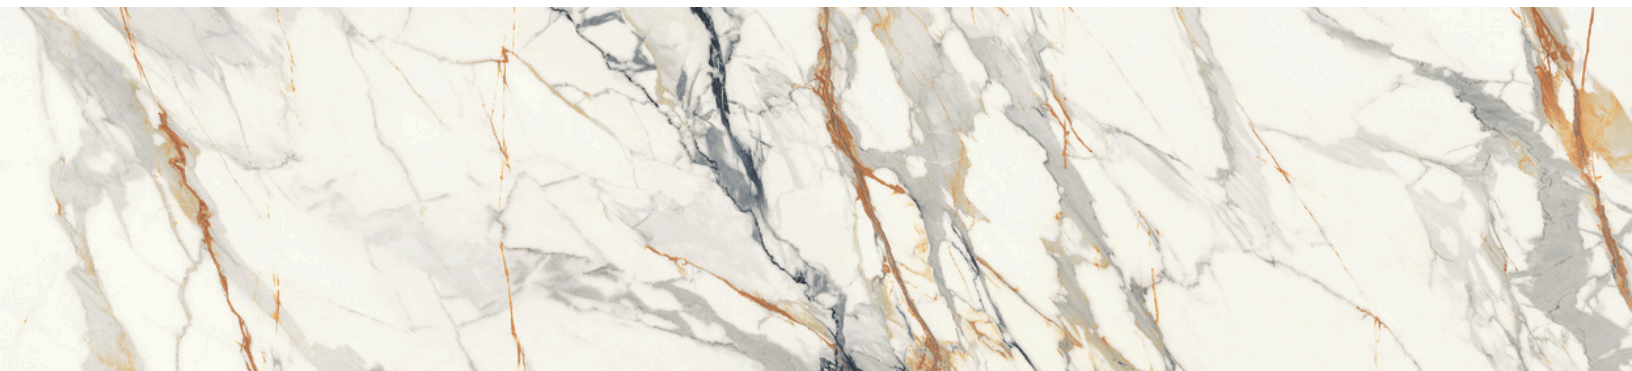

At Master Cabinets, we take pride in providing high-quality cabinetry tailored to your specifications. When choosing a Supply-Only or Flat-Pack service, it is essential you understand that all measurements, design work and specifications provided are your responsibility. A Client Declaration Form is provided with the Final Cabinetry Designs for your signing.

It's important you provide us with your final design, as multiple changes to your designs may incur additional costs to cover time spent on drafting.

If you require additional support and would like to collaborate with Master Cabinets, but still manage the installation yourself, please communicate with you Sales Consultant about adding the following services to your project:

- Colour and Design Consultation
- Site Measure
- Delivery

These are all services you may wish to add for an additional costs, based on the needs and requirements of your project.
