2025 MERCURY RISING ROSE' California

Wine Analysis

Content: 100% Grenache
Alcohol: 13.0%
Release Date: June 1, 2026

Tasting Notes

Fresh & vibrant aromas of strawberry, hibiscus flowers, hints of allspice, and black currant. Medium body with layers of stony minerality, and a delicious finish.

The Magic

The magic begins in the vineyard by select farming to reduce the size of the clusters. We then whole cluster press the grapes and cold ferment at 58 degrees in stainless steel for 21 days to preserve fruit aromas and acidity.

The Grape

Grenache is an excellent grape for Rosé wine. It is one of the most widely planted varieties in the world. It ripens late, so a warm region is required. Grenache can also produce heavy yields, so it must be fruit thinned for quality. It offers good acidity, low tannins, and full range of fruit flavors, from raspberry and strawberry to watermelon and lemon. The Grenache grape makes this a particularly special and unique Rosé.

The Innovation

For more than three decades, Mercury Rising has stood as Cinnabar's flagship wine - an expression of creativity, craftsmanship, and quality without pretense. First introduced in the mid-1990s, it defined our commitment to blending tradition with innovation, offering a red wine of remarkable depth and approachability.

Today, the Mercury Rising collection continues that legacy with the addition of three new wines - Chardonnay, Rosé, and Sauvignon Blanc - each crafted in the same spirit of excellence and discovery. Made to be vibrant, balanced, and accessible, these wines celebrate the essence of Cinnabar: high-quality winemaking, thoughtful innovation, and the enjoyment of everyday moments.
