Why do Catholics cross their forehead, lips and heart at the Gospel?

We cross our forehead so that the Word of God may be in our thoughts & purify our minds. We cross our lips so that our speech may be holy & incline us to share the Gospel with others. And we cross our hearts to invite God to strengthen our love for Him and others. This is so we may know, proclaim and love Jesus more.

Sunday Reflection

In St. Paul's time, the Church was so new that everyone remembered how they came to the faith. It seems that some people in Paul's time actually boasted about who baptized them. They acted as if they were better Christians because of the person whose preaching first attracted them.

Paul, of course, would have no part in those rivalries. In fact, you can almost hear Paul laughing when he talks about people who consider Christ as just another leader of one of the factions. Christ should be the sign of unity for all Christians, not just one congregation. While no one says they want to divide the body of Christ, I'm sure you know someone who thinks the only way to have a unified Church is for everyone to pray the same way they do.

Yet even Paul did not expect all believers to be clones of one another. He frequently wrote about people having many different gifts. Those differences are necessary; we need all the gifts that the Spirit gives us. So what can we do to help unify the Church?

First, do what Jesus himself did—pray for unity in the Church (John 17:20–21). Pray that you come to know what your own gifts are, have the courage to use them for the Church, and appreciate the gifts of others.

Second, Paul was very aware of his own weaknesses. Without weakness, how can we experience God's strength? Instead of looking down on those with whom we disagree, look up to see what God may be revealing to you through that person's differences.

En tiempos de San Pablo, la Iglesia era tan nueva que todos recordaban cómo llegaron a la fe. Parece que algunos en tiempos de Pablo se jactaban de quién los había bautizado. Actuaban como si fueran mejores cristianos por la persona cuya predicación los atrajo inicialmente.

Pablo, por supuesto, no quería participar en esas rivalidades. De hecho, casi se puede oír a Pablo reírse cuando habla de quienes consideran a Cristo como un líder más de una de las facciones.

Cristo debería ser el signo de unidad para todos los cristianos, no solo para una congregación. Aunque nadie dice que quiere dividir el cuerpo de Cristo, seguramente conoces a alguien que piensa que la única manera de tener una Iglesia unida es que todos recen de la misma forma que él.

Sin embargo, ni siquiera Pablo esperaba que todos los creyentes fueran clones unos de otros. Con frecuencia escribió sobre personas con muchos dones diferentes. Esas diferencias son necesarias; necesitamos todos los dones que el Espíritu nos da. Entonces, ¿qué podemos hacer para ayudar a unificar la Iglesia?

Primero, haz lo que Jesús mismo hizo: reza por la unidad en la Iglesia (Juan 17,20-21). Reza para que llegues a conocer tus propios dones, tengas la valentía de usarlos para la Iglesia y aprecies los dones de los demás. Segundo, Pablo era muy consciente de sus propias debilidades. Sin debilidad, ¿cómo podemos experimentar la fuerza de Dios? En lugar de menospreciar a quienes tienen una opinión diferente, miren hacia arriba para ver lo que Dios pueda estarles revelando a través de las diferencias de esa persona.
