FROM THE MAYOR'S DESK

As summer turns to fall, I've been reflecting on all we've accomplished together over the past year and how much of it comes down to one thing: Community.

It's easy to see the progress. We've made key infrastructure upgrades, including a major project at our Water Pollution Control Plant, the paving of 12 streets, and secured funding for two future bridge replacements. These long-term investments will serve Hornell for years to come. Our downtown continues to grow more vibrant, thanks to new streetscape improvements, public art, and the addition of a pedestrian park that's made the area more walkable, inviting, and full of opportunity for new and existing local businesses. Our parks have truly become gathering places. Union Square is now a lively spot for concerts, events, and connection. Shawmut Park offers green space, trails, a skatepark, and family-friendly amenities. Veterans Memorial Park is bustling with activity from pickleball and tennis to relaxing picnics. These spaces don't just look great, they bring us together.

But beyond the physical improvements, what really makes Hornell special is our people. It's the neighbor who lends a hand, the volunteer who shows up, the local business that gives back, and the city employees and first responders who keep things running every day.

As we head into fall, I hope we all take a moment to appreciate the beauty around us and the people who make Hornell feel like home. Whether it's a walk in the park, supporting a small business, or catching up with a neighbor, we each play a part. Let's keep moving forward, supporting each other, and building the kind of community we all want to be part of.

From the Fire Department

The Fire Department would like to remind residents that as the warm summer weather gives way to cooler fall air, we recommend having your heating systems, such as furnaces and boilers, cleaned and inspected by a licensed HVAC technician. This will ensure a safer heating system for the winter season.

This is also a great time to consider testing smoke, fire, and carbon monoxide alarms to be sure they are operational. Alarms save lives and we recommend testing them on a bi-annual basis minimally.

We would also like to remind residents with the drier weather this summer, to please exercise caution with outdoor recreational fires.

Fires must be contained in a fire pit or chiminea-type fireplace with a spark-arresting cover, kept under two feet tall, and situated at least 15 feet from flammable structures. Fires must use only dry wood or charcoal, not trash or yard waste. A readily available method of extinguishment, like a hose or fire extinguisher, and continuous adult supervision are required. Additionally, the fire must be extinguished if it creates a smoke or odor nuisance for a neighbor, and outdoor burning can be prohibited during extreme fire conditions.

Codes Office Update

The Codes Office would like to remind landlords that all apartments must be inspected prior to the move in of any new tenant and every 30 months with any unchanged tenant.

Inspections are critical to ensure safety of an apartment and compliance with all regulations. Inspections benefit both the tenant and landlord as a reference to apartment condition prior to occupancy.

The Codes Office also performs annual inspections of commercial properties. These include Place of Public Assembly (PPA) and fire safety inspections, conducted with the Fire Department to ensure the safety of each space. They also provide the Fire Department with important access information, testing, and reminders to be best prepared in the event of an emergency.

As we move into the fall, we would also like to remind residents leaves and snow, as well as grass, cannot be placed upon the City streets. This creates drainage issues and can create safety risks for cyclists or pedestrians. Please place bagged leaves at the curb for pick-up by the DPW.

The mowing season comes to a close October 15th. Until then, all grass, brush, and weeds must be kept under the state limit of 10 inches.

Finally, we would like to remind residents garbage and refuse are to be placed at curbside the evening before pick-up and cans are to be removed, to the back of the property, after trash pick-up.

Photo (Above): Fire Chief Frank Brzozowski and Code Enforcement Officer Larry Bacon conduct a PPA inspection. These inspections help maintain safety by checking sprinklers, fire alarms, exits, and more. They are an important service that ensures commercial spaces are prepared in the event of an emergency.

Skatepark Improvement

The planned expansion of the skatepark at the Michael Fucci Memorial Park at Shawmut is moving forward in the design and planning phase. The project was recently awarded $530,631 in grant funds through the Office of Parks, Recreation, and Historic Preservation (OPRHP).

Improvements will include additional ramp installations and a pump track. Pump tracks can be used by riders on bicycles, skateboards, scooters, or skates and are suitable for riders of all skill levels, whether beginner or advanced.

Photo (Above): A visual sample for readers who may not be familiar with pump tracks. This photo shows a pump track provided by the American Ramp Company in Lock Haven, Pennsylvania. The pump track at Shawmut Park may look different, but will be a very exciting addition to the park!

Pump tracks are growing in popularity throughout the nation for children and adults alike, and will be a unique addition to the City of Hornell.

Art Installations through the DRI

The final pieces of the Downtown Revitalization Initiative (DRI) are arriving to Hornell. The last components of the DRI included public art installations. In early June, artist Sam Castner of Ironvine Studios installed two sculpture pieces in the City's downtown area.

The last remaining art piece to be installed will be a mural on the Lion's Will building on Pave Alley. The mural offers a beautiful yet playful look at animals we often share our world with. It was designed by artist Glenn Zwegardt, who also created the Pave Alley archway and the "Homage to Gus" sculpture on Broadway. Final touches to the design are still underway, and residents can expect the mural to be completed this fall!

It was designed and installed by artist Sam Castner of Ironvine Studios and was inspired by trees as a reflection of their sustainability. The piece is a perfect fit for the Maple City and arrived just in time for the Thursdays in the Park summer concert series.

Students envisioned the sculpture as telling the story of Hornell, with history bursting from the pages of a book. It features a historical timeline, references to the City's rail history with tracks and a train, and maple leaves crafted by the students themselves.

Department of Public Works

The Department of Public Works is wrapping up another busy summer season. This year, the department completed paving on several City streets, including Emmett St., Seward St., Hubbard St., Dennis Ave., Hill St., and Center St.

The street sweeper season will come to an end on October 25, 2025. Residents can also expect the third, and final, round of hydrant flushing to occur the week of: October 11- October 17. Hydrant flushing is a necessary part of maintaining our water system to allow for optimal performance. Residents may experience discolored water during this time, and we encourage running water until it's clear before using. We appreciate your patience!

The DPW would also like to remind residents not to blow leaves or shovel snow onto City streets. This creates dangerous travel and is against City code. Please place bagged leaves at the curb for pick up, if desired.

Finally, we would like to remind residents that we offer a sidewalk replacement program. The current cost is $17.50 per square foot, with the work completed as time allows. If interested or for more information, please call us at 607-324-7421.

WPCP Receives Planning Grant

The City of Hornell has been awarded a $50,000 Engineering Planning Grant from the Environmental Facilities Corporation (EFC) to study options for treating and disposing of the solid waste produced at the Hornell Wastewater Pollution Control Plant (WPCP).

The grant will fund a study to explore the most economical and environmentally sustainable methods for managing biosolids. Our current land application equipment is over 40 years old, and the study will help determine whether new tractors and application devices are needed. Recent research on polyfluoroalkyl substances (PFAS), synthetic "forever chemicals" found in products such as non-stick cookware, water-repellent clothing, and food packaging, has highlighted the need to consider the environmental impact of recycling biosolids as fertilizer. Preliminary testing in Hornell has shown very low levels of PFAS in our wastewater and sludge, and lab results indicate our waste contains very low or no levels of the 40 pollutants commonly tested.

Hornell WPCP staff will work closely with consultants from LaBella Associates, P.C. to evaluate all options, including alternative disposal methods and equipment upgrades. This study will provide the City with the information needed to make safe and sustainable decisions for managing wastewater solids while protecting public health and the environment.

Meet the DPW: David McMichael

Photo (Left): David McMichael has been a dedicated employee for the City of Hornell since 1996. Dave is currently the assistant foreman, and his job includes helping the general foreman with all aspects of street construction and waterline repairs. Dave is also an equipment operator and mason. Dave is an integral employee of the Department of Public Works. Thank you for all you do, Dave!

Nicknamed "Vactor" for its vacuum and jetting capabilities, this truck is in use daily, clearing "Fats, Oils, and Grease (FOG)" from sewer lines that negatively impact the system. This critical equipment was able to be secured through Sourcewell as a demo truck, making the vehicle more affordable and available right away.

Students from Mr. Rob Lemay's building trades program will begin work on site this fall. This valuable program creates brand-new, single-family homes at a cost of only materials, while providing students hands-on learning.

Hornell Area Transit is Hiring Drivers!

Hornell Area Transit (HAT) provides dependable public transportation for the City of Hornell and surrounding communities, connecting residents to jobs, school, shopping, health care, and other daily needs. With more than 52,000 trips provided last year, HAT continues to be an important service that many people rely on.

To continue meeting this need, HAT is actively seeking drivers. A Class C (or higher) Commercial Driver's License (CDL) with passenger endorsement is preferred, but training is available for qualified candidates. Drivers play an important role in ensuring residents have access to safe and reliable transportation, and this position offers the chance to make a direct impact in the community.

HAT operates daily routes to Almond, Alfred, Bath, and Canisteo, and provides Dial-A-Ride service to residents of the City of Hornell and surrounding areas.

Accessibility is a priority, and all buses are handicap accessible to ensure mobility for those who may face challenges getting around. The service allows residents to plan their days with confidence, stay engaged in community life, and travel safely and efficiently throughout the region.

Police Update

The Hornell Police Department would like to remind residents about its DIVERT program (Drug Intervention through Voluntary Education, Rehabilitation and Treatment). This program was started in early 2020 and continues to offer a compassionate and proactive alternative to the traditional criminal justice system for individuals struggling with addiction.

Since its launch, the DIVERT program has helped connect community members with treatment providers, including CASA Trinity, and has given individuals the opportunity to seek recovery support voluntarily, without fear of arrest or prosecution.

DIVERT is strictly voluntary and continues to build on Chief Ted Murray's long-standing open-door policy, allowing residents to walk into the department, turn over drugs, and ask for help confidentially.

The DIVERT program remains one part of HPD's broader commitment: continuing strong enforcement against drug use while offering those struggling with addiction a genuine chance at treatment and recovery.

The DIVERT program is spearheaded by Captain Michael Sexsmith, and is coordinated with our designated DIVERT officers: Seth Blanchard, Timothy Thurston, Eric Kerr, and Sgt. Dan Murray.

If you are that person in need of help or if you are someone seeking options to help that person you care about, please do it now before it's too late. Come and speak with one of our dedicated DIVERT officers currently serving as liaisons, working with individuals to establish contact, arrange treatment meetings, and track progress.

DIVERT is currently partnered with CASA-Trinity of Hornell and when an individual wants to be enrolled, an appointment is immediately set up with a treatment specialist who will discuss options and possibilities available.

The DIVERT program is also partnered with the Steuben County District Attorney's Office. A participant who successfully completes the treatment program may be considered on a case-by-case basis for a lesser criminal penalty as a result of partaking in the program.

Citizen Recognition

The City of Hornell is excited to recognize Lyndsey McCoy and Josh Sikorski for their swift and decisive actions during a Hornell Steamers baseball game where an umpire collapsed.

McCoy, an assistant athletic trainer at Alfred University and trainer for the Steamers, quickly responded with a defibrillator. Sikorski, the athletic trainer for the visiting Olean Oilers, joined her, and together they provided aid until a Hornell Fire Department ambulance arrived with Paramedic Mark Joy and Firefighter Justin Morse. Also assisting was Paramedic Chad Hancock, who was in attendance.

Mustang Rally Comes to Hornell

The City of Hornell was excited to host the Mustang Rally of the Finger Lakes at Veterans Memorial Park in August. The rally was sponsored by the City of Hornell, Hornell Partners for Growth, Mayor John Buckley, and Cruize 'N Time Car Shows. The event featured over 90 mustangs displayed at the park, following a fun ride to the Watkins Glen racetrack the previous day. A very fun time was had by all participants, vendors, and visitors and we look forward to next year!

Employee Spotlight

The Employee Spotlight proudly shines on Officer Tim Thurston, who was appointed as a patrolman to the Hornell Police Department in 2019.

Officer Thurston's kind and calm demeanor is evident in every interaction, benefiting both the department and the community. He is patient, dedicated, and demonstrates excellent decision-making in critical moments. Thurston also serves on the DIVERT team, where he is trained to assist individuals seeking help with addiction by connecting them with specialists at CASA-Trinity.

Mayor John Buckley shared, "I often receive compliments from residents who interact with our police officers. Officer

Thurston is consistently recognized for his kind and thorough response, which residents deeply appreciate. Just last week, I had a meeting with residents that noted their comfort and trust with Officer Thurston when he responded to their call. Their words remind me how fortunate we are to have officers like him, whose compassion strengthens the heart of Hornell."

Congratulations and thank you, Officer Thurston, for your continued service to our community.
