ABLAZE's The Cimmerian returns! See Robert E. Howard's classic pulp tales adapted to the comics medium with all bloody, guts, and glory intact! Conan, accompanied by Natała—a slave of wild beauty—advances through the seeming infinity of a sandy desert. With water and food supplies now exhausted, and with the two stranded in turn under a blazing sun and frigid nights, it is clear that the inevitability is death. Right as Natała's final ounce of strength leaves her, Conan spots something in the distance. It's a city that shines like glass. It's Xuthal...

Eydis Friggdottir is an Icelandic attorney and descendent of the goddess Frigg, blessed with the gift of making “unbreakable” contracts. Eydis takes on her most difficult case yet when she is hired to broker a peace treaty between the Norse gods in an effort to prevent a new Ragnarok.

ValhallaW is contemporary fantasy, filled with dark humor and high concept action (plus a bit of legal drama). But at its chilly heart, the book is about family, as Eydis juggles saving the world and rediscovering romance with her (recently reanimated) girlfriend.

Eisner Award winning writer Mark Russell and artist Roberto Meli comes the Eisner-nominated compelling sci-fi story...

Traveling to Mars tells the story of former pet store manager Roy Livingston, the first human to ever set foot on Mars. Roy was chosen for this unlikely mission for one simple reason: he is terminally ill and therefore has no expectation of returning. Roy is joined on his mission to Mars by Leopold and Albert, two Mars rovers equipped with artificial intelligence, who look upon the dying pet store manager as a sort of god. Against the backdrop of not only his waning days but those of human civilization as well, Roy has ample time to think about where things went wrong for both of them and what it means to be a dying god. A riveting story of planetary exploration and of finding meaning in your final days.

Collects the critically acclaimed 11-issue series plus cover gallery and bonus material.

"...an intensely personal and honest story born from frustrated anxiety over the easy choices for a better future that society continues not to make. There's catharsis in this very smart and well-done comic, and I can't recommend it enough. Verdict: Buy" —COMICSBEAT.COM

"Mark Russell is the consistent satirist in mainstream comics right now, and Traveling to Mars turns his jaundiced eye on space travel in a bleakly funny subversion of the genre. Space travel is founded on optimism, the model established by editor John W. Campbell where capable white men go to space for the betterment of Mankind. Russell turns that completely on its head. Score: 8/10" —BLEEDINGCOOL.COM

PREVIOUSLY OFFERED, BACK TO PRESS!

COVER/ARTIST: DORILYS GIACCHETTO

WRITER: MICHELE BOTTON

Pending licensor approval. NBM Graphic Novels TM & © 2026 ABLAZE, LLC.

From the preface by Luca Dotti, Hepburn's son: "Everyone has their own Audrey, for some she is always twenty years old, for others she is in black and white and for others in color. Sometimes she is a European princess, a tipsy New Yorker or a UNICEF ambassador. Here you will discover her differently, made of ink and paper in a much more intimate and unvarnished dimension, without a soundtrack and with the voice you prefer. I sincerely hope that you will discover her as yours."

When Audrey Hepburn is mentioned, one thinks of her being beautiful and elegant, of her films, or of how her image is used to recall something immortal and fashionable.

But Audrey was also a little girl who saw the Second World War with her own eyes, a woman who was at times fragile at work and in her private life, with a strong desire for motherhood and, above all, a boundless love for children that would lead her to find her true vocation, far from dancing or acting: she will in fact become a UNICEF ambassador to raise awareness in the world and help minors in difficulty.

"When I started acting, I didn't have a method, on set and on stage I just pretended to be someone else, like little girls can do for fun. And I won an Oscar!"

Going back to press! When the repulsively ugly Coddie unintentionally saves a fairy from a spell, she does not understand the poisonous nature of the wish granted her by the fairy. The village folk no longer see her as repulsive and stinking of fish—they now perceive her as magnetically beautiful—which winds up having unexpected consequences. A young local lord saves her, but it soon becomes apparent that Coddie’s destiny may be far greater than anyone ever imagined. Caustic and flamboyant, this fairy tale offers grownups an engrossing take on the nature and corrupting power of beauty during our present age of obsession with it.

America's First School for Black Girls, 1832

Wilfrid LUPANO • Stéphane FERT

NBM Graphic Novels TM & © 2026 ABLAZE, LLC.

In 1832, in Canterbury, Connecticut, a “charming and picturesque” little school for young girls opens to accommodate around twenty residents.

Educating girls is a bit ridiculous and useless, they think in the area, but harmless enough. Until the day when the “charming school”, led by Prudence Crandall, announces that it will now welcome Black girls....

Thirty years before the abolition of slavery, some fifteen young people in the Crandall school are greeted by a wave of hostility of insane proportion. White America is afraid of some of its children.

The story of this school and its legal legacy for civil rights cannot be understated. Crandall v. State (of Connecticut) was the first full-throated civil rights case in U.S. history. The arguments by attorneys in the Crandall case played a role in two of the most fateful Supreme Court decisions, Dred Scott v. Sandford, and the landmark case of Brown v. Board of Education. It catapulted Ms. Crandall into a Civil Rights pioneer.

Voice-A-Versa

FINDING MY VOICE(S) BEHIND THE MIC

● BY BILLY WEST

From the voice behind Ren & Stimpy, Doug, Bugs Bunny, nearly half the main Futurama characters, and much more, a revealing memoir of life before—and in front of—the mic

Billy West is one of the most accomplished and beloved voice actors alive today. He's brought to life original animated characters like Stimpy from Ren & Stimpy, Doug Funnie, and Philip J. Fry, Dr. Zoidberg, Zapp Brannigan, and Professor Farnsworth (and more) on Futurama. And he's played iconic characters like Bugs Bunny and Elmer Fudd in Space Jam, Popeye, and Woody Woodpecker. Chances are, he's made you laugh many times. You might even know some of his lines by heart.

In Voice-A-Versa, West recounts his remarkable life in show business and the circuitous route that got him there, from a radio-call in contest that led to skits on morning radio in Boston, to a one-off appearance on The Howard Stern Show that turned into a regular role, to a big move to Hollywood, and legendary roles working with other talented creators. But West's life story is deeper and darker than that, and this memoir will reveal the traumatic upbringing that scarred and shaped him, and which gave birth to the "Billy-verse" of voices.

Billy West is an accomplished voice-over actor, musician, and former radio personality. Born in Detroit in 1952, he got his start in the entertainment industry on morning radio in Boston and as a failed stand-up comic, then became a regular on The Howard Stern Show from 1989 to 1995. His voice roles include Bugs Bunny in Space Jam, Doug Funnie in Doug, Ren Hoek and Stimpson J. Cat from The Ren & Stimpy Show, and many others, as well as characters in advertisements, including Buzz the Bee for Honey Nut Cheerios and the Red M&M.

SELLING POINTS

BIG FAN BASE: A regular at fan conventions, Billy West is eager to promote Voice-A-Versa at San Diego Comic-Con and elsewhere. He will draw on his extensive network of friends and colleagues for promotional support—Matt Groening is lined up to write a foreword.

EYE-OPENING MEMOIR: West mines humor from difficult circumstances, evocative of I'm Glad My Mom Died by Jeanette McCurdy and It Never Ends by Tom Scharpling.

● BY MIKE MAIHACK

A fourth action-packed, original story in the Mighty Marvel Team-Up graphic novel series by celebrated cartoonist Mike Maihack, featuring Spider-Man as he journeys with Thor, Valkyrie, and the Warriors Three!

No day is boring when you're Spider-Man and adventure is around every corner. But when Thor hops into the scene, transformed into a mini-Mjölmir-wielding frog, Spidey's day is about to get even more adventurous! After a heated battle against Enchantress, Thor's friends—Valkyrie and the Warriors Three—and Odin's most powerful artifacts have all been turned into humdrum house objects and scattered across the Nine Realms.

With a knack for seeing the extraordinary in the ordinary, Spider-Man is on the hunt! How hard can finding the artifacts really be? But as Spidey and his mighty mates skate through Frost Giants territory and sweat through Surtur's sweltering home, they realize time is running out before Enchantress finds the destructive doodads for herself, putting Midgard—and the other realms—in danger.

Letters from the Witch: Cackle Crackle

WITH FIVE SPELLS FROM PRACTISING WITCHES TO PULL OUT AND KEEP

● WRITTEN BY ANNIE ATKINS; ILLUSTRATED BY TARYN KNIGHT

Read five letters from five magical beings in this beautifully illustrated book from renowned designer Annie Atkins, illustrated by Taryn Knight

Letters from the Witch follows five witches from across the globe as they prepare for showtime at the annual Big Witch Convention. However, their work is interrupted by gaggles of local children looking for help. How will the witches share their secrets, and will the children know if they're being tricked?

Written in perky rhyming verse as a partner title to Letters from the North Pole, this delightfully spooky story includes 10 pullout paper props featuring handwritten letters, spells, and scientific diagrams straight from the witches' kitchens and laboratories.

Annie Atkins is a graphic designer and prop maker for film and television. Her first job after graduating was on the third season of The Tudors, creating the calligraphy for Henry the Eighth's death warrants (among other things). She is known for her work with Wes Anderson on The Grand Budapest Hotel, which won the Academy Award for Best Production Design at the 87th Academy Awards. Since then, she has worked again with Wes Anderson on Isle of Dogs and The French Dispatch. Atkins's first book, Fake Love Letters, Forged Telegrams, and Prison Escape Maps was published in 2020 by Phaidon. Atkins lives in Dublin, Ireland, where she teaches workshops out of her studio.

Taryn Knight is an illustrator working in children's literature from her home in the windswept fields of Colorado, with over 360,000 followers on Instagram. She began her professional career as a digital designer, dabbling in digital illustration until finally returning to paint and paper. Since then, she's made her children's book illustration debut in 2020 with Embassy of the Dead (Walker US) and manages an online shop. Knight is inspired by nature and life's simple joys, aiming to create a sense of wildness and childish freedom. She works from her small studio at home, where her desk is littered with paint tubes, mismatched mugs, treasures collected on walks, and half-drunk cups of tea.

MIGHTY BRAND: Marvel Comics continues to be one of the most recognizable and biggest brands worldwide, with Spider-Man being one of the most popular characters in their stable. With more Spider-Man films slated to release in the coming years, Spider-Man will continue to be in the cultural conversation.

EXCITING FORMAT: Graphic novels continue to experience tremendous growth, especially in the children's market, as seen with Spider-Man: Animals Assembled! which has sold more than 140,000 copies across all formats and more than 235,000 copies sold between all books released. This is one of the only early-reader graphic novel series to come from Marvel, and it fills an important gap in the market.

ALL-STAR TALENT: Maihack is an incredible talent and has already had a successful young readers series with Cleopatra In Space. His accessible art style and humorous storytelling will appeal to both younger audiences and older fans of the brand.

Picture it: Riverdale, some year A.D. What was supposed to start out as a showcase of Jughead's pie-eating skills morphed into the wildest food fight America—no, THE WORLD—has ever seen. Betty vs. Veronica (kind of), Reggie being... well, Reggie. Hot Dog lounging. Friends turned to enemies. Hearts broken. Crumbs everywhere. What's to become of Riverdale? And will Jughead ever get to taste a sweet morsel of pie? All this AND a peek at Old Man Archie & Jughead. No matter what your favorite flavor is, this issue has something for you. Tillie Walden's complex, lyrical stories about queer love, fantasy, coming-of-age, and cats are now available in this collection.

In 'The End of Summer,' Lars is battling illness and boredom in a secluded castle at the start of an endless winter with a giant cat to keep him company and fraying family bonds to test his strength. In 'I Love This Part,' two small-town girls kill time and try to muddle through school when an unexpected romance blooms. And the surreal 'A City Inside' recounts one woman's life from childhood on, in a poetic tale about coming-of-age when you think you're past all that.

This graphic novel also includes never-before collected early sketches, webcomics, including the short comic 'What It's Like To Be Gay In An All-Girls Middle School,' which shot Tillie to fame on both sides of the Atlantic.

From the time when the station wakes her up, Birdie Doran is on the clock. It's just her and one or two others on Terracorp's isolated outpost, processing comets. So she slips into virtual reality, with the station creating adventures for her as she does repairs, routine maintenance, and checks the status on all the systems.

But when Birdie discovers another abandoned station just within walking distance of her own, she begins to question her isolation, and her own memories of what her job—and her life—really is. And at every turn, she starts finding the things the station has been hiding from her.

PLANET DEATH!

Blockbuster screenwriter Derek Kolstad, creator and writer of the internationally acclaimed, box office dominating motion picture franchise JOHN WICK, New York Times best-selling writer Robert Venditti (SUPERMAN '78), and master illustrator Alex Maleev, the Eisner Award-winning artist behind seminal runs on Daredevil, Moon Knight and more, have combined powers to bring you a white-knuckle, globe-spanning action/spy thrill ride.

Cole is a repo man of the highest caliber, repossessing heavily guarded mega yachts from billionaires, private planes from captains of industry, and everything in-between. If it's got an engine, he can drive it, ride it, or fly it straight out from under the nose of an army of guards.

Now he's handed the job of a lifetime. The impossible job. One that will bring him face to face with the highest stakes.

The Russians have stolen aeronautical military secrets from China, France, Germany, The UK, and the US to "Frankenstein" together the ultimate bleeding edge, next-gen fighter jet: The Warbird. There are only three of them in existence. They are a force of absolute nature—$1.4 billion apiece—dominating every global hotspot from Syria to Ukraine. And Cole's been hired to steal one... and destroy the other two.

His fee? 10%. A cool $140 million. But this isn't a repossession job. This is outright theft. And failure doesn't mean jail time and fines—it means a bullet to the back of the head.

FIRST APPEARANCE ALERT!

PRINTER PLATE SWAP EDITION!

DINGOLIATH #1: THE ERROR EDITION!

It has been ZERO days since our last printing error!

The printing process isn't perfect. So much can go wrong: binding mistakes, inaccurate colors, incorrect paper stock, low resolution, all just a tip of the iceberg when it comes to printing errors.

Most times these mistakes are caught at the printer, but sometimes these error copies escape containment, making for some of the rarest versions of a comic available on the market.

Collect your own super-limited version of BAD IDEA's Monsterverse premiere with DINGOLIATH #1: ERROR EDITION!

Due to a pre-planned manufacturing error, every copy of DINGOLIATH #1: ERROR EDITION suffered an unfortunate plate-swap at the printer, meaning every single copy features completely color swapped cover and interiors. Just like the coveted Fantastic Four #110 misprint!

The rarest version of the first appearance of DINGOLIATH on the market guaranteed!

THE RETURN OF DAVID LAPHAM'S CRIME SAGA!

New York Times best-selling writer Robert Venditti (SUPERMAN '78) and world-renowned comics legend David Lapham (STRAY BULLETS) join forces to deliver a must-read new entry in their striking new vision in the fight against crime.

Something's rotten at Big Caligula's Pizza, location #212 -- and it's not just last week's mozzarella. Cash tips have fallen off a cliff, and the question on everyone's lips is, why? Has service really gone downhill, or is there something, or someone, more sinister to blame?

Corporate smells trouble, and they've called in their best man for the job. Enter, Hank Howard. Armed with a mind as sharp as a tack, nerves of steel, and an ironclad stomach, Hank's about to dive into a mystery hotter than a fresh-baked pie and his only lead won't talk. Literally. It's the location's mascot, Biggie. The employees who don the oversized Roman Emperor garb are forbidden from talking in front of customers. Ruins the illusion for the kids.

Thankfully, Hank's not flying solo. Location #212 just happens to be the stomping grounds of Hank's old buddy, the pizza crust loving dog, Cali. Together, they'll sniff out clues, chomp down leads, and uncover secrets that could rock the pizza world to its core.

RAMP UP THE ACTION!

Eisner-nominated writer Joshua Dysart (UNKNOWN SOLDIER) and Eisner Award-winning artists David Lapham (STRAY BULLETS) and Bill Sienkiewicz (NEW MUTANTS) go for the jugular in the penultimate chapter of their groundbreaking horror tour-de-force.

A fungal infestation has taken control of The Hab and the minds trapped inside. It brings with it a message:

Peel back your flesh, strip by strip. Unburden yourself from what's inside. Make room. It's time to become something new. But first...YOU MUST DIE!

After a last-ditch hunt for a cure deep within the cavernous underbelly of The Hab goes horribly wrong, Dr. Farooqi, Mel, Mina, Tomas, and Tuttle are the last inhabitants of their damned refuge left alive. But they're not alone. The dead walk again—rotting, reanimated, and consumed by the spreading infection that's taken hold of The Hab. Mina knows their only hope is to seal off the ancient cave spewing spores into the station. But Tomas and Tuttle have a different plan... burn it all down.
