our technology

Our proprietary technology, Tension Release Technology™ (TRT), is a new type of molecular particle which interacts and communicates with the anatomy and physiology of the body, specifically the muscular system.

Once introduced to the body, TRT communicates with the muscles to release and relax thus allowing for improved overall body structure alignment. Through our highly specialized proprietary process, TRT is able to bond to any textile or gel on the molecular level achieving long term viability to help support the body.

BIOGRAPHY

BRIAN BURZYNSKI, D.PSc., SRM
INTELLIGENT THREADS: PRESIDENT AND CHIEF SCIENCE OFFICER
SYNERGY RELEASE METHOD (SRM): FOUNDER AND CHIEF THERAPIST

Brian Burzynski, D.PSc., SRM has been practicing SRM® (Synergy Release Method®) therapeutic services since 2000, known as the best kept secret in body structure and body functionality. He has taken his education in Quantum Engineering and Mechanics, combined with 20 years of hands-on body alignment anatomy and physiology, to make the most sophisticated, technologically advanced way to correct body structure issues within minutes – Tension Release Technology™.

His clinic's motto is, "We want to see you once, then you have the technology to correct yourself." Most patients receive 80%+ improvements within one session, without a need to return.

Brian was a stand out high school basketball player in Waco, TX when injury struck and he found his new profession in helping people recovery structurally from injury.

Out of SRM birthed Intelligent Threads, the first ever Tension Release Technology™ textile which communicates to your muscular and skeletal system allowing your body structure to realign within seconds of contact to the material. Now used on over 10,000+ individuals since 2016, TRT™ has been proven to improve overall body structure by over 60% within the first 2mins of wear, decrease pain, improve sleep, regulate blood flow, and improve recovery.

Brian has worked on many great athletes and celebrities, such as Fred Couples (PGA), Andy Roddick (Tennis), Andy Reid (NFL KC Chief Head Coach), Terrell Owens (NFL), Houston Street (MLB), Yao Ming (NBA), Justin Houston (NFL), Jim Morris (MLB), Zachary Levi (Actor), Lee Ann Rimes (Country Music Star), David Sinclair (Harvard Professor), and Dave Asprey (Godfather of Bio Hacking).

His body mechanics and technology have no comparison to anything currently available and are taking human body technology 100+ years into the future.

Brian is married to Michelle Burzynski and they have two daughters, Anna Belle and Eliza. They enjoy their family time at their church and outdoor adventures.
