The Eucharist is a huge part of who we are as Catholics. Did you know that there is a National Eucharistic Revival coming our way soon? To prepare and align ourselves, we would like to run a course here at Our Lady of Fatima. We need to know who is interested and what times work best. We understand that some don't drive at night and some are not available during the day, so if there is enough interest we will run it during the day and night. This is a great opportunity to increase your knowledge of the Most Holy Eucharist. It is also an opportunity to dispel the myths and untruths that exist. This and many other programs will be made available to you, so please get involved by calling the office at 203-762-3928 or sending an email to pastor@olfwilton.org. We look forward to seeing you at this event.

Ask Your Pastor A Question?

Why did God make the devil if he knew the angel would become bad?

God made angels with free will, just like He made humans with free will. Angels are very powerful and intelligent beings. One of the angels, who was called Lucifer, chose to disobey God and became the devil. God did not make the devil bad, but He allowed the angel to make his own choice. It is a mystery why Lucifer chose to turn away from God. But God always brings good out of bad situations, and He can use even the bad choices of angels and humans to bring about His plan for the world. (CCC 391, 395)

scholarly answer

The Catechism of the Catholic Church does not explicitly address the question of why God created the devil knowing that the angel would become evil. However, Catholic theology offers some insights and perspectives on this matter.

Firstly, it is important to understand that God created angels and humans with free will, which is a gift that allows them to choose between good and evil. God desires genuine love and relationship, and true love requires freedom. Without free will, there would be no authentic love or moral responsibility.

In the case of the devil, who was originally created as a good angel, it is believed that he exercised his free will by rebelling against God out of pride and disobedience. This rebellion led to his fall from grace and his transformation into the devil.

God, in His infinite wisdom, allows for the existence of evil and the rebellion of the devil and other fallen angels because He respects the freedom He has given them. God permits evil to exist, but He does not will or cause evil. Instead, He brings about a greater good from the consequences of evil, ultimately working towards the redemption and salvation of humanity.

It is also important to note that God's knowledge is not limited by time or space. He exists outside of time and has perfect foreknowledge of all events, including the choices that angels and humans will make. However, this does not mean that God predetermined or forced those choices. God respects the free will of His creatures and allows them to make their own decisions, even if He knows the outcome.

Ultimately, the question of why God allowed the devil to become evil is a mystery that surpasses human understanding. The Church teaches that God's ways are beyond our comprehension, and we are called to trust in His wisdom and providence.

In summary, while the Catechism does not directly address why God created the devil knowing he would become evil, Catholic theology suggests that God created angels and humans with free will, allowing them to choose between good and evil. The devil's rebellion was a result of his exercise of free will. God permits evil but does not will or cause it, and He works to bring about a greater good from the consequences of evil. The question of why God allowed this to happen remains a mystery that surpasses human understanding.

FAITH FORMATION

Next Sunday, January 28, the sixth through eighth grade students will gather at the 4:30 Mass and move to the school for classes until 6:30 PM. Pick up is in the church parking lot.

REMINDER to parents of First Communicants: An important meeting will be held in the church at 6:00 PM on Wednesday, February 7. Please make every effort to attend. ## SHARING OUR FAITH

OCIA is the Order of Christian Initiation of Adults. Those who are baptized in another Christian tradition and those who are unbaptized are invited to call Kathleen Rooney (203-762-9080) to learn more about this process of becoming a Catholic.

We always welcome back those who have been away from regular attendance at Mass and the sacraments. You are missed. Please call a priest to guide you back to active practice of our faith.

Another suggested movie for Family Movie Night

It's the late 80s when Alaskan news reporter Adam Carlson happens to spot a trio of gray whales trapped by pack ice in the Arctic Circle. With temperatures dropping, it won't be long before the surface freezes over and the whales drown. Hoping to help save them, Carlson quickly films a news story to draw attention to the situation.

Inspired by the true events of 1988's "Operation Breakthrough", Big Miracle offers an inspiring reminder about humans' ability to work together for a common cause. The drama is rated PG and is family-friendly.

Word Play In The Gospel

Reflection by Rev. Leonard N. Peterson

In all our popular sports we find “fair play” and “foul play” with referees and umpires necessary to decide. But in good literature we often find something called “word play.” Our natural reaction as readers of such is enjoyment and remembrance. Word play always involves making jokes by using the meanings of words in an amusing and clever way. That’s precisely why the word “play” is part of its title. However, word play can also create more serious observations if it is used deliberately.

Recall G.K. Chesterton’s statement that “Christianity has not been tried and found wanting; it has been found difficult and left untried.”

Nestled in today’s Gospel passage from St. Mark’s first chapter is exactly the case of word play made with serious undertone. Such is Jesus’ remark to His early followers: “Come after Me and I will make you fishers of men.” I happen to love that line. I love proclaiming it to you. Why? Because it captures something special. It is a trait of Our Lord that the gospel writers usually don’t refer to, and that is Jesus’ sense of humor. That helps round out His personality and makes Him attractive. For so He is and always will be.

But here and now, let us focus on those first three words He says, namely “Come after Me.” There is no word play here, but a serious call addressed not only to the men on that long ago seaside but also to us. In plain terms, with little “play” present, just what prevents us from doing what Jesus asks? Or pretending we didn’t hear what He said? Coming after Him ultimately means not going after other realities. And we get a little nervous. Why?

If we are honest with ourselves, we usually go after other things. We might say one or the other of the “Big Three,” namely: “Wealth, Honor and Fame.” Sometimes it’s a combination of those. Or a subdivision like greed. Anything but going after Jesus. So here and now, as we begin this third week of a new year, it would be a good “play” to go with Jesus for a welcome change.

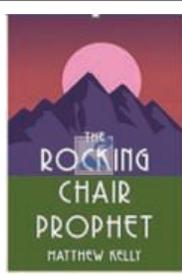

Meantime, there are always examples of how word play can take us by surprise. Helena Modjeska (1844-1909) was one of the most popular actresses of her time because of her emotional style and superb ability. Once, to demonstrate the raw power of that ability, she gave a dramatic reading in her native tongue, Polish. No one at the sedate dinner party understood Polish, but all were in tears by the end of her performance. Such was the power of her presentation. Only later was it revealed that the piece that had moved the sophisticated audience to tears was the Polish alphabet!

God love you and give you His peace.

We have extra copies of these free books that were Christmas gifts to our parishioners. You can find them at the Church doors. Please feel free to take one of each.
