BArts' Current Programme

Have you got your copy? We are delighted to say that the programme is flying off the shelves and we have just collected a second print. Distribution points in the borough are, sadly, rather limited, but you should always be able to find a copy in the library and at the Spotlight. The events section is also available on line at www.broxbournearts.org.uk

Broxbourne Appoints An Arts Development Officer

Good news for local Arts! The new post of Arts Development Officer has just been filled by Donna Stringer, who is a mosaic artist and qualified teacher. The BArts' team looks forward to meeting her very soon.

More Good News! Closer links between BArts and Lowewood Museum

We welcome the Friends of the borough's Lowewood Museum, who have just become affiliated to BArts. We hope this will offer them new opportunities for publicity and, possibly, co-operation of mutual benefit.

The F.O.L provide financial support, volunteers and special events for the museum, including a series of talks every year. The next talk is

Tues, March 19th
'Hertfordshire Almshouses'
Speaker: Colin Wilson.

Tues April 16th 'Only One Egg' –
Speaker: Ian Walker

8.00 pm at The United Reformed Church, Mill Lane, Broxbourne.

Lowewood MUSEUM A Major New Exhibition
Your Heritage, Your Museum

Lowewood Museum is planning a rather special exhibition for later this year, under the title 'Toys Of Our Time' and is looking for owners / families with cherished toys that have a story behind them.

NB This is not an opportunity to get rid of unwanted items!

The toys would be on loan only and returned to their owners at the end of the exhibition.

If you have items for consideration, you will need to fill in an application form and provide a photograph. Forms are available on line <https://forms.gle/4mbpbZs1eLHRTV8L8> .

Please don't take toys into the museum now as they won't be accepted.

BArts' Annual Arts Awards

Broxbourne Arts Forum offers grants to a maximum of 4 local young people a year who are pursuing high standards in visual / performing arts' activities; The aim is to encourage and enable talented young people to achieve their full potential.

Successful applicants will receive a cash grant of up to £250

The Award may be used for:

- Coaching, tuition and training costs, developing a portfolio, or organising a display of work.
- Travel expenses related to County level or higher events, attendance at an audition for professional training, or at an exhibition or arts fair.
- Examination fees for a recognised body/ Entry fees to County level or higher competitions, or providing a taster workshop for your Community.
- Purchasing materials or equipment for arts activities

Award Criteria

- High Artistic Standards — These will be assessed via submission of a CV, evidence of past work and supporting references.
- Applicants must reside, or receive full-time education, in the Borough of Broxbourne

Age Criteria

- Applicants must be aged at least 11 years / under 26 at the date of application..

Only one application per person will be accepted in any one year (1st May - 30th April).

Successful applicants will not normally be eligible for further awards from BArts.

All applicants will normally be notified of a decision within 28 days of submitting an application. Download an application form

Attention All Group Members!

The new edition of BArts' programme is now in preparation and it is a long process to get every page set up, with lay-out and colour scheme designed and text and images checked for accuracy

We would, therefore, appreciate your prompt response to our request for your information and any vital updates. Even just 'No change' would help (if that is the case), so that we don't suspend work on a page unnecessarily.

Subscription renewal is due by April 1st and covers :

- An entry in 3 programmes a year,
- Occasional additional publicity in BArts' Broadsheet
- Representation in crucial negotiations with the Borough, the Spotlight etc
- Access to a lively arts network and advice on all aspects of the arts

Handel's Messiah Part 2: Behold the Lamb of God

Handel's Messiah was written in a single burst of energy in August 1741 and was presented for the first time in Dublin, the following Spring. Over the years, however, it has become traditional to present the work at Christmastime and for many attending a performance marks the arrival of the Christmas season.

Peter Medhurst

Singer, pianist and lecturer-recitalist, Peter has performed in major venues all over the world and broadcast with Classic FM and Radio 3 and 4.

Moving stories along the A10

We have a wonderful evening taking place this June as part of Hoddesdon Windrush celebrations and Love Hoddesdon Midsummer Festival.

Moving Stories Along the A10 hopes to find the similarities and differences in the experiences of those that have made this journey.

We are looking for any cultural background that migrated to Britain and made the journey from London and travelled up the A10.

Did your parents migrate/move to Britain in the 50's, 60's or 70's?

Did you live near the A10 whilst growing up?

You could have lived in Liverpool Street, Shoreditch, Hackney, Tottenham or Enfield.

Could now live in Broxbourne, Cheshunt or Hoddesdon or nearby?

Would you like to share your stories and hear the stories of others?

If you're curious, then please email windrushhoddesdon2@gmail.com and then come along to our information session on Wednesday 6th March at 6pm at Hoddesdon Library to hear what we have planned for this wonderful event.

Have you heard of Cheshunt's Harmony Garden?

Wyld Edges are creating the Harmony Garden to be “a refuge; a safe space for anyone who needs it. Gardening itself has countless benefits, but we also aim to provide opportunities for everyone to socialise, enjoy healthy food, and participate in arts and crafts and more.”

Lowewood Museum will be working with Wyld Edges on a National Lottery Heritage Funded Horticulture in Broxbourne Heritage project.
