Wilbert
Commemorating Life with Respect®

Where will the cremated remains be in five, ten, fifty years?

Burying an urn in a cemetery is a favored choice for many families, providing a permanent resting place and focal point where family and friends can visit and remember a loved one for generations to come.

URN VAULTS COLLECTION

A lined urn vault, in addition to meeting requirements of many cemeteries, can serve as a beautiful centerpiece at a graveside committal service. Personalization is available on many Wilbert urn vaults to reflect the life of a loved one in symbols, words or photos.

Many families use the urn vault as a time capsule to preserve cherished keepsakes and mementos, often displayed first on a memory table at the graveside service.

After burial, the lined urn vault provides a protective shell that isolates the urn from ground elements and potential damage from the weight of the earth and cemetery maintenance equipment.

An urn vault also accommodates possible future relocation of the cremated remains and assurance that the remains and the urn will be intact. One example would be when a family plot is acquired at a later date.

WHY DO I NEED AN URN VAULT?

If you plan on ground burial for the urn, many cemeteries require an urn vault. Lined urn vaults provide varying levels of protection from subsoil elements and the weight of the earth and heavy cemetery maintenance equipment.

Your funeral director can help you select a lined urn vault that suits your style and budget.
