MORPETH MUSIC SOCIETY

TWENTY-EIGHTH SEASON OF SUBSCRIPTION CONCERTS,

1972 — 1973

has pleasure in announcing the Twenty-eighth Season of Subscription Concerts. Four varied programmes have been arranged and, once again, there will also be a Social Evening in December.

Over the years these Concerts have become an established feature of Morpeth's cultural life, and the Committee looks forward to receiving the fullest support from members — both old and new. With costs and fees rising on every side, the Society relies increasingly upon the advance sale of season tickets, so please help us by using the enclosed postcard to apply for your tickets as early as possible.

Could we ask you to support us even further by becoming a Patron? A list of all our Patrons will appear with each programme.

Having regard to present-day costs, the Committee is justifiably proud that the price of tickets for the coming year will remain unchanged.

* * * * *

Patrons: £1.50 Members: £1.25

Juniors (of school age): 75p.

(These individual tickets are transferable, and all are valid for any concert during the season.)

Admission to Single Concerts: 35p. Juniors: 20p.

TOWN HALL

12th October, 1972

AMPHION ENSEMBLE

JOAN BUCKNALL (Viola)

JEAN AUSTIN DOBSON (Mezzo Contralto)

ELIZABETH THOMAS (Piano)

Three talented artists who have been playing together since 1967. They have broadcast individually and as an ensemble on a number of occasions.

9th November, 1972

BRIAN RAYNER COOK (Baritone)

ROGER VIGNOLES (Piano)

Awarded the Ferrier Memorial Scholarship in 1969, this singer is a great attraction at Glyndebourne and equally on radio and television. Roger Vignoles is well known for his able accompaniments.

7th December, 1972

A SOCIAL EVENING

Guest artists — Denis Weatherley (Baritone) and Eleanor Weston (Piano) — both extremely popular performers in the North-East.

8th February, 1973

CHRISTIAN BLACKSHAW (Piano)

A gifted young pianist who has been studying in Moscow and Italy. He has recently played with the Hallé Orchestra at one of their Promenade Concerts.

8th March, 1973

NINA MARTIN (Violin)

DAVID WARD (Piano)

Two accomplished artists who were both voted "Young Musicians of 1971" by the Greater London Arts Association.
