ADDITIONAL BODY PREPARATION SERVICES

It is our policy that human remains be identified whenever possible prior to Minimum Service Options, cremation/ graveside services or in all situations where there is to be a closed casket. The identification may be made by anyone who knew the deceased, including a relative, friend, neighbour, co-worker, or clergy person. While identification of a body is possible with the minimum required preparation, you may wish to consider opting for "basic preparation of remains" or embalming, as it might provide a more peaceful and meaningful final viewing experience. Embalming is not legally required but may be recommended to preserve the body between the time of death and final disposition. One of our funeral directors will be able to guide you on preparation options and make recommendations based on the condition of the body and the expected service needs.

SERVICE OPTIONS

On pages 5-10, you will find samples of our services that are commonly selected by the families we serve, however, there are many other options available to you.
