Maintenance Newsletter July 2026

As June wraps up, we want to provide an update on what's been happening around the golf course. June brought an unusually wet and cold stretch of weather, which certainly kept us busy with course cleanup duties. While the extra rainfall has presented a few challenges, we're optimistic that July will bring more consistent warm weather, allowing the course to continue improving throughout the summer.

Overall, we believe the course has been in great condition despite the weather. Our team has worked hard to keep everything healthy. We're pleased to report that we have completed the renovation of the greenside bunker edges on holes 7 and 16. In addition, all of our greenside bunker edging has now been completed, and our focus has shifted to edging and cleaning up the fairway bunkers over the coming weeks.

Unfortunately, the wet conditions prevented us from carrying out our scheduled greens aeration. Instead, we opted to slice the greens. This practice still provides valuable aeration and promotes healthy turf while allowing the greens to remain in good playing condition.

You'll also notice some fresh new landscaping around the property. Our horticulturist, Emily, has done a fantastic job installing new planters and bringing a refreshed look to several areas of the course, such as the 10 bridge planters. Her attention to detail has added even more beauty and character to the course.

Aside from these projects, it's been business as usual for the maintenance team. We remain committed to providing the best possible playing conditions and appreciate your patience and support as we continue improving the course throughout the season.
