Give your documents a clear route to service.

For solicitors, businesses and private clients who need legal papers and notices served, with updates and evidence of the work undertaken.

A clear brief

Provide the documents, recipient details, service address and deadline. Tell us about any order or instruction specifying how service must take place.

A documented outcome

We agree the attendance requirements, record attempts and provide the appropriate evidence of service or attempted service for the accepted instruction.

WHAT TO SEND

Documents and any court order.
Recipient identity and available addresses.
Deadline and required method of service.
Known risks and the evidence you require.

Requirements vary with the document and proceedings. Alternative service may require court permission; attendance alone does not guarantee valid service.
