

Is it possible to enjoy a fabulous vacation in delightful Bermuda at the 5-star Princess Fairmont hotel with its world-renowned art collection while attending the best regional tournament of the year and be getting bridge instruction with two outstanding bridge teachers – Gail Greenberg and Jeff Hand?

YES, IT IS

Bridge Sprees with Gail and Jeff will be your magic carpet. Join them from January 28 for four days of bridge camp and then extend as much of the tournament that you wish to attend (until February 6, 2026).

The British Overseas Territory of Bermuda is a charming location one time zone east of North Carolina, which combines the beauty of tropical-like surroundings with easy accessibility.

The regional tournament is unique because of its exceptional hospitality and friendliness.

Gail and Jeff's tremendous teaching experience allows them to zero in on each student's needs and interests. Their credentials, however, are not limited to teaching. Gail is in the bridge hall of fame and 6-time world champion, and they have won both many national and international championships.

Bridge Sprees with Gail and Jeff

In conjunction with the tournament chairman and the hotel sales coordinator, Gail and Jeff were able to negotiate very discounted rates:

The price, per day, during the tournament from January 31 until February 6 will include all hotel fees, taxes and gratuities plus:

- All card fees
- Round trip transportation between Bermuda airport and Hamilton Princess Hotel.
- Advanced/Intermediate Bridge lesson with Gail and Jeff on January 31
- Opening night tournament reception and daily tournament hospitality.

The price per day, during the bridge camp January 28-31, will include all the above plus:

- all bridge activities both at the host hotel and two lessons and games at the Bermuda Bridge Club
- Welcoming cocktail party
- dinner at 4 ½ star Little Venice restaurant

Whether you choose to attend only the 4-day bridge camp or the bridge camp with some or all the tournament that follows, or just the tournament, we can customize your package to your preferences and give you full benefit of the discounted packages.
