

What is the Bridging Program?

- This program is designed for non-STEM and non-health strand students, as well as transferees, to prepare for allied health-related courses. It helps develop the necessary foundational skills and competencies needed for college programs in the health sciences.