Faith Seeking Understanding

Pastor Tim Malek

The month of January is named for the ancient Roman god Janus. Janus had two faces, one looking forward and the other looking behind. Janus was thought to be a good representative for the first month of the New Year, as we find ourselves looking forward to what the future may hold, as well as remembering the past year with all its joys and sorrows. Unlike the ancient pagans, who tried to win favor and fortune with countless gods to no avail, we have a relationship with the living Word and a promise that all our ultimate needs will be taken care of.

Jesus said to his disciples, "Therefore I tell you, do not worry about your life, what you will eat, or about your body, what you will wear. For life is more than food, and the body more than clothing. . . . And do not keep striving for what you are to eat and what you are to drink, and do not keep worrying. For it is the nations of the world that strive after all these things, and your Father knows that you need them. Instead, strive for his kingdom, and these things will be given to you as well. Do not be afraid, little flock, for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom." – Luke 12:22-32 (NRSV)

May you have a blessed 2026 little flock. God is with us.

In the peace of Christ,
Pastor Tim.

Jan. 26-28 9am-noon Quilting

Come join the quilters the last Monday thru Wednesday of each month from 9am-noon for fun, food, & fellowship. There is a variety of tasks – cutting, tying, pinning, and stitching! Everyone welcome!

Hi, it's Church Mouse!

As of this writing, we are looking forward to our Christmas Eve service. But the Children's Christmas

Program was so enjoyable. The program was given a great start with a piano solo by Lewis DeRidder. And my head jerked up when I heard the first reading, the Confession and Forgiveness, because it was read by the tiniest little reader I'd ever seen, Alysann Patterson. Setting a great example for us all was tiny Tessa Tafolla, who enthusiastically proclaimed "Halleluliah!" into the children's sermon microphone many times.

Thank you to the coordinating adults who pulled this together, Abby Patterson, Kara DeRidder, and Kelsey Olson, and the numerous teenage helpers as well!!

My heart is full,
Church Mouse

St. Petri Lutheran Church
Council Meeting
Approved Minutes
November 9, 2025 – 11:15 a.m.

Present: Angie Rieck-Hinz, Travis DeRidder, Rick Stover, Angie Stover, Ann Healy, Pat Murken, Kelsey Olson, Abby Patterson, Pastor Tim Malek

Meeting called to order at 11:13 a.m. Pastor Tim offered Devotions.

Angie S. presented the October Minutes for approval. Kelsey made a motion to accept the minutes as written; Abby seconded. No discussion. Motion carried.

Rick presented the Treasurer's Report. There were two green sheets, one of which Rick explained was a correction of the September sheet. He plans to double check the collected t-shirt monies for accuracy. He noted that while the budget for October was down $3,100, it is still in the positive $8,122 for the year. Angie Rieck-Hinz approved checks written in October. Kelsey made a motion to accept the corrected September information as presented as well as to accept the October information presented; Pat seconded. No discussion. Motion carried.

Pastor Tim began his report by reaffirming how much he loves this congregation. He spoke on the Boundaries Training for Region 5 for Gender Justice that he was a part of in October and that he appreciates how members of St. Petri conduct themselves. Pastor again expressed his belief that a committee needs to be formed as well as upgrades need to be made to streamline the church's livestream efforts. Ann made a motion that Pastor Tim send a Christmas appeal letter (similar to last year's); Abby seconded. No discussion. Motion carried. There was some discussion regarding the phone system needing to be upgraded and that the extraneous equipment in the boiler room may need attention as a result. Angie R-H added that she believes that Veronica's computer and the computer in the Volunteer office need to be upgraded.

Ann reported that the final Community Meal for 2025 will be held at the library Saturday the 15th.

There will be a potato bar potluck after church on Commitment Sunday the 23rd.

Abby reported that hymns have been selected for November and December and that a request has been made to tune the organ. Cards to be sent to homebound members will be signed by members during Fellowship time the first Sunday (7) in December and planning is well underway for the Children's Program that is to be held the following Sunday (14).

Pat reported that the kitchen sink at the Parsonage will be repaired soon and that a spigot at the Parsonage has been fixed. He announced that the Property and Trustees committee plans to purchase an automated floor cleaner (i.e. Roomba) for $1,100. The system will be installed in the sanctuary with initial plans to begin using the device to vacuum the sanctuary. The device may be used for other purposes around the church as St. Petri learns to use it further.

Kelsey reported on a food drive that the Sunday School youth are doing in November. That, along with other activities in November are designed to highlight to the youth the importance of giving. There will be no Sunday School on 11/30, 12/28 or 1/4, and a Christmas party is planned for 12/21. She also noted that cookie decorating kits will be available for the Fellowship treat on 12/14.

Old Business: None

New Business: Deb Lancaster has been hired as Custodian at $15.00 an hour for 12 hours per week on a one-month trial basis. She will begin November 10 and Pastor Tim and Pat will supervise. Pat made a motion to confirm this arrangement; Ann seconded. No discussion. Motion carried.

The remainder of the meeting was spent working on updating St. Petri's policy documents. Angie R-H reminded committee heads to get their 2026 budgets to Pat.

Meeting adjourned at 12:32 p.m. and closed with the Lord's Prayer.

Respectfully submitted, Angie Stover

The Bencke Family in Japan

December 2025 (2): 111番

The Christmas Nail is to be hung on a sturdy branch near the trunk that will hold such a spike without being noticed by admirers of the tree. The Christmas tree foreshadows the Christ-tree

Wait for the Lord, His day is near “It’s just for four years.” In 2005, Emilie was still three years old, and I was explaining to my parents that Patrick and I would be accepting a positions as missionaries in Japan and moving for a period of time. In the four years we would be gone, Emilie would go from three years old to seven. Hannah wasn’t even a two-celled organism yet. My mom was hiding her sadness at the impending separation, but I saw her tears through the stoic Minnesotan Polish set jaw.

Our first Christmas was in a different house than the one we live in now. It was older and colder. Single pane glass, no insulation, and thin walls. Only 19 years ago, finding some sort of Christmas tree was a formidable task. There was no Costco then. There was only one mall. Maybe a small shelf of horribly icky ornaments could be found in some stores. Amazon Japan didn’t exist. But we did manage to find one, and at the time it was taller than Emilie. It’s a different story now.

Nineteen years have passed. My mom has passed, too. The tree is smaller now. And I was too busy this year to get the ornaments out, save for four sparkly spheres and “the nail.” My mom brought the nail ornament for me in 2011, the Christmas she came, and died a few days after arriving. I hang the nail and I remember opening that gift after we held a memorial service for her. The nail is a reminder that while it is a joyful thing to rejoice in Christ’s birth, we must remember that Christ, along with all humans, was going to experience death.

Christmas holds a lot of wonderful memories for me, but many sad ones, too. It is a complicated time of year, emotionally. To create a loose analogy, I think of how Christmas trees become heavier as years go along and we add those special ornaments or decorations that make me remember a person or event. Beautiful, and nostalgic, and maybe sad, too. I look at those branches and while I don't get rid of those precious ornaments, there is always a certain simplicity when I put the ornaments away and it's just the tree and lights. Just me and the Light. Quiet worship, remembering love. Remembering how I was deeply loved by my mom and how I deeply love her now. Thinking about how I love God, and how deeply I am loved. So loved that He sent Jesus. Not just for me, but for every single human on this earth, both ancient and to come.

Today, in chapel, we held our "Blue Christmas" worship service. Sometimes it is called "The Longest Night" in North American churches. I will attach a video of our service here, although it is quite dark and all in Japanese. But you may get a sense of what we, as worship leaders, were attempting to create for students to experience. It was a Taize style service, so we started with John 1:5, which states, "The light shines in the darkness, and the darkness has not overcome it." Chaplain Wada then explained what this service means, which is that Christmas has a complicated peripheral story that is not all about sparkling lights, dates with significant others, or Kentucky Fried Chicken. The marketing messages are powerful, and for those who are lonely, feeling loss, suffering from hardship, experiencing their first Christmas without a beloved person, are hungry, or who are waiting for any number of mercies, Christmas and New Year can be especially difficult. It is for me, too.

We sang the beautiful Taize hymn "Wait for the Lord, his day is near. Wait for the Lord, be strong, take heart." Quite appropriate for Advent, as well. After this, students were asked to write the prayers of their heart on a small piece of paper and deposit it in a box on the way out of chapel. Those written prayers will be a part of the offering at our Christmas worship next week. We were recognizing that sometimes all we have that we can offer the Lord is our suffering.

May the closing of this Advent season usher in joy that uplifts and sustains you into 2025. Thank you for another year of steadfast partnership and commitment to proclaiming the Good News to God's kingdom both in your church and outside her walls. We look forward to hearing from you and wish you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year! If you don't understand Japanese but would like to watch, listen, and perhaps simply pray along with us, follow this link.

LEFT: This is our Christmas tree. When I first purchased it for our first Christmas in Kumamoto, it was taller than Emilie and Hannah (pictured) was not even born yet!
