Thirty-third Sunday in Ordinary Time

Luke 21:5-19

In this Sunday's Gospel reading, Jesus talks about the events that will happen as we approach the end of times. The scene that He describes paints for us a picture similar to what we would see in an end of times suspense movie. Jesus talks about nations going against nations and powerful earthquakes and famines affecting the world. He goes on to say that awesome sights and mighty signs will come from the sky. I think that we can all agree that if we live during these times, it will be terrifying. However, instead of focusing on the events that will unfold around us, why not take a moment and pay close attention to what Jesus has to say regarding you and your spiritual well-being.

Jesus also describes what will happen to those that love Him. To those who are true and faithful Christians, Jesus tells us that they will be seized and persecuted all because of His name. They will be handed over by parents, brothers, relatives and friends. Some will be put to death and all will be hated because of their love for Him. Truly, a horrific scene for those that love Christ.

Regardless of all this, Jesus will be with those that are faithful Christians during these difficult times. Jesus says that they will have to give testimony, an opportunity to profess their belief and faith in Christ, and will provide the wisdom necessary to keep their adversaries powerless. Jesus will be with those who are faithful to Him. This raises the question about us. Will we be the faithful ones that will be hated because of His name? Will we be the ones to give testimony of His greatness? Will we stand strong when the world begins to fall apart around us and be beacons of hope to the rest of the world because the light of Jesus Christ shines within us? Reflect on this my friends because tomorrow is never promised and before we know it, everything that Jesus reveals in this Gospel reading will be a reality.

- Dn. Ezequiel

Trigésimo tercer domingo del Tiempo Ordinario

Lucas 21:5-19

En la lectura del Evangelio de este domingo, Jesús habla de los acontecimientos que tendrán lugar al acercarnos al fin de los tiempos. La escena que describe nos presenta una imagen similar a la de una película de suspenso sobre el fin del mundo. Jesús habla de naciones que se enfrentarán entre sí, de poderosos terremotos y de epidemias y hambres que azotarán el planeta. Añade que se producirán en el cielo señales prodigiosas y terribles. Creo que todos podemos coincidir en que, si vivimos en esos tiempos, será aterrador. Sin embargo, en lugar de centrarnos en los acontecimientos que se desarrollarán a nuestro alrededor, ¿por qué no tomarnos un momento para prestar atención a lo que Jesús tiene que decir sobre nosotros y nuestro bienestar espiritual?

Jesús también describe lo que les sucederá a quienes lo aman. A los cristianos verdaderos y fieles, Jesús nos dice que serán apresados y perseguidos por causa de Su nombre. Serán entregados por padres, hermanos, parientes y amigos. Algunos serán condenados a muerte y todos serán odiados por su amor a Él. Verdaderamente, una escena terrible para quienes aman a Cristo.

A pesar de todo esto, Jesús estará con los cristianos que verdaderamente lo aman durante estos tiempos difíciles. Jesús dice que tendrán que dar testimonio, una oportunidad para profesar su creencia y fe en Cristo, y les dará la sabiduría necesaria para vencer a sus adversarios. Jesús estará con quienes le son fieles. Esto nos lleva a preguntarnos: ¿Seremos los fieles que serán odiados por Su nombre? ¿Seremos quienes demos testimonio de Su grandeza? ¿Permaneceremos firmes cuando el mundo comience a desmoronarse a nuestro alrededor y seremos faros de esperanza para el resto del mundo porque la luz de Jesucristo brilla en nosotros? Reflexionen sobre esto, amigos, porque el día de mañana no está garantizado y, antes de que nos demos cuenta, todo lo que Jesús revela en esta lectura del Evangelio será una realidad.

- Dn. Ezequiel
