

Irvin Urken Biography

Irvin Urken has proudly called Greenbriar Whittingham home since 2021, where he lives with his better half Terri Haberman. After earning a BA from Middlebury College, Irv went into the family hardware business which closed in 2002. Irvin then became a Financial Advisor with Northwestern Mutual, helping individuals and families make informed decisions to protect their financial futures and preserve their wealth.

A native of Princeton, New Jersey, Irvin has a long history of leadership, public service, and community involvement. Professionally he was elected to the Princeton Borough Council where he served as Council President and Police Commissioner. These leadership roles gave him experience in governance, budgeting, and working collaboratively to achieve meaningful results.

Irvin is seeking election to the Greenbriar Whittingham Board as a member at large because he believes residents deserve proactive, thoughtful leadership. He wants to help shape the community's future by bringing experience, accountability, and a willingness to tackle issues head-on.
