IS A FULL MOUTH OF IMPLANTS RIGHT FOR YOU?

A CLOSER LOOK AT FULL MOUTH IMPLANTS

Restoring your smile, one step at a time.

For patients missing multiple or all of their teeth, full mouth dental implants may offer a long-term solution to restore their smile and make everyday activities like eating and speaking easier.

Full mouth implants use dental implants to support a new set of teeth, providing a secure and natural-looking alternative to traditional dentures. They are designed to look, feel, and function more like natural teeth.

But are they right for everyone?

Your dentist will consider your oral health, bone structure, and individual needs before recommending treatment. A consultation is the best way to understand your options and determine what may work best for your smile.

At Ivanhoe Dental, our team is here to answer your questions, explain your options, and help you feel confident about your next step.

A NEW ERA OF SMART LIVING STARTS HERE

PATIENT TESTIMONIAL

“I’m so grateful for Ivanhoe for changing in my life. I have been stuck in this for quite a while because of fear. And I have nothing to fear. I have no pain. I feel great, and I am so grateful for what they have done for me. If anyone out there have any fear, believe me, they can take care of it, and there's nothing they haven't seen. I can't stop smiling. And the thing of it is, there's two things I had: my hand and my mask I was hiding behind. Now I don't have to hide behind that. I'm just smiling on camera to my family and friends. They love it. My children love it. My brother loves it, and everybody's just so glad that I did this. Thank you, doctor.”

DOCTORS TAKE

“That's a question I hear all the time” says Dr.Salem.

Dental implants may cost more upfront, but they can be a great long-term investment in your smile. Unlike traditional bridges, implants don't require reshaping healthy neighboring teeth, and with proper care, they can last for many years.

But implants aren't always the answer. Sometimes a bridge or another option makes more sense. That's why I always recommend looking at what's best for each patient, not just one treatment.”
