From the Pastor's Pen

Who is the Chosen People?
Israel and the Church

The New Testament uses a variety of images, analogies, and metaphors to describe the church. This should tell us that the church is not a simple thing. If it were, you would think a simple description would be sufficient. That isn't what we find. The New Testament uses a rich assortment of descriptions because the nature of the church is complex and multifaceted. When Jesus promised to build his church (Matt. 16:18), he did not envision a rickety shack or a simple home; he was drawing up the blueprints for nothing less than a new Temple (see Eph. 2:18-22; 1 Peter 2:4-5), a marvelously intricate and complex structure. The nature of the church is rich and varied and cannot be captured by one image or a simple description.

One of those many images, the one I want to focus on in this article, is the New Covenant people of God. The Hebrew people—the great genealogical family of loosely associated clans and tribes descended from Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob—were formed into one united people group and forged into one single nation by the Old Covenant given through Moses on Mt. Sinai. Jacob's name had been changed to Israel in Genesis, and his name was chosen as the name of the new nation. The names of Jacob's twelve sons became the names of each tribe. Hence Israel is the nation, and the people of each tribe are the sons of Israel, or Israelites, the citizens of the nation. God chose Abraham and promised him a worldwide family (Gen. 12:1-3). God chose Isaac and Jacob to be the heirs of the promises to Abraham. God chose their descendants to be the bearers of the ancient promises, and thus he made a covenant with them (the Old Covenant) and claimed them as his special people (Ex. 19:5-6; Deut. 7:6-8).

The whole nation of Israel was chosen by God as his people, but simply being an Israelite was no guarantee of salvation or of inheriting the covenant promises. It was the nation as a group that was chosen under the Old Covenant, not every individual in that group. Being a member of the chosen people by genealogy was not enough. Isaiah prophesied that not the whole nation, but only a faithful remnant would be chosen by God for salvation (Is. 1:9; 10:22-23). God would preserve a remnant of believers and continue the nation through them. Jeremiah prophesied that God would make a New Covenant with this faithful remnant in place of, and greater than, the one Israel had broken (Jer. 31:31-33). God fulfilled these prophecies by sending Jesus.

Through his life, death, and resurrection, Jesus established that New Covenant (Luke 22:19-20). Paul, therefore, understood himself to be a minister of the New Covenant (2 Cor. 3:6), and the author of Hebrews praises this New Covenant as superior to the Old because it is based on better promises (Heb. 8:6). Through Christ, God has replaced the Old Covenant with the New (Heb. 8:13). By doing so, God has preserved the chosen nation, "the Israel of God" (Gal. 6:16), through Jesus the Messiah and the faithful Jewish remnant. So then, even though the Jewish people, or ethnic Israel, remain chosen in a historical sense, and retain their God-given privileges, and have a hopeful future in God's plan (Rom. 11), not all Jews have been chosen as heirs of the covenant. Only the faithful remnant of Israel, Jews who bow the knee to the Messiah, are the ones whom God has chosen to inherit the ancient promises (Rom. 9:1-16). All Gentiles who believe in the Messiah are now included with Jewish believers and share in their chosen status (Eph. 2:11-13, 19). This New Covenant people of God is called the church, and through this church God is keeping his promise to give Abraham a worldwide family (Gal. 3:7-9).

A Special "Thank You" from CCCC

Dear Forks of the Brandywine,

On behalf of all of us at Chester County Connect Care (CCCC), we wanted to say "thank you" to you and your congregation at The Forks at Brandywine for your successful 2026 Baby Bottle Campaign! I'm excited to share that your congregation raised $2,079.00!

If you'd like to share with your congregation how your support helps CCCC, here is a glimpse: As you most likely know we are in three parts of Chester County: Coatesville, West Chester, & Kennett Square all strategically located within steps of planned parenthood. Our hope and desire are to help women and families here in Chester County make life-affirming choices, by saving the life of their precious pre-born child and sharing the abundant life in Christ.

We walk alongside each family through ultrasounds and limited medical care throughout the life of their child. We provide services through our budgeting, education, and parenting classes that afford them points to then utilize our baby boutique providing them with brand-new baby clothes, diapers, and formula to name a few.

The ultrasound is just the beginning of the relationship, we often walk alongside our families for years and years to come. Our hope and desire again are to align with the Gospel in loving these families while equipping them with the tools to then live abundantly.

Thank you again for your continued support!

The troop had a fun spring! They joined a group of troops at Hickory Run State Park and climbed the rocks at Boulder Field in May.

The boys assisted the Downingtown VFW in placing new flags at the graves of veterans at the Forks Cemetery, and they also walked in the Downingtown Memorial Day parade. Three of the boys and 3 American Heritage Girls led the Pledge of Allegiance at the ceremony.

Thoughts & Smiles

The Heart of Jesus

The idea of a spiritual heart transplant is a vivid image to me; once you have the heart of somebody else inside you, then that heart is there.

Jesus' heart is inside me, and my heart is gone. So if God were to place a stethoscope against my chest, he would hear the heart of Jesus Christ beating.

—Max Lucado

The Power of Kindness

No kind action ever stops with itself. One kind action leads to another. Good example is followed. A single act of kindness throws out roots in all directions, and the roots spring up and make new trees. The greatest work that kindness does to others is that it makes them kind themselves.

—Amelia Earhart

"This country will not be a good place for any of us to live in unless we make it a good place for all of us to live in."

—Theodore Roosevelt

Preventing Blind Spots

About 40% of any vehicle consists of blind spots, which are responsible for an estimated 800,000 accidents each year in the United States. People also have blind spots, and when they're spiritual, they can have tragic consequences.

Pastor Rick Warren suggests these steps for discovering and overcoming blind spots:

- Pray, asking God to remind you what is true about him — and about you. "Point out anything in me that offends you, and lead me along the path of everlasting life" (Psalm 139:24, NLT).
- Ask some trusted Christian friends or family to point out things in you that you can't see. "Fools think their own way is right, but the wise listen to others" (Proverbs 12:15, NLT).

Finally, ask Jesus to change you. The Bible says the truth will set you free (John 8:32), and Jesus calls himself the truth (John 14:6). So the closer you are to Jesus, the more he will fill you with the truth. As God's truth helps you see clearly, you'll be less vulnerable to self-deception.

5 Steps to a Friendlier Church

1. Speak to the other person first. Don't wait for him or her to take the initiative.
2. If there is someone you don't know, introduce yourself to him or her.
3. Be pleasant in your words and expressions. A great church cannot be built with frowns.
4. Invite newcomers to a worship service or to a church event and introduce them to other members.
5. Encourage people to participate in those church activities that interest them.

"What sunshine is to flowers, smiles are to humanity."

—Joseph Addison

"A life without love is like a year without summer."

—Swedish proverb
