

THE CANONS ON THE MOST HOLY EUCHARIST (Council of Trent) (IV/IV)

CAN. I. If anyone denies, that, in the sacrament of the most holy Eucharist, are contained truly, really, and substantially, the body and blood together with the soul and divinity of our Lord Jesus Christ, and consequently the whole Christ; but says that He is only therein as in a sign, or in figure, or virtue; let him be anathema.

CAN. II. If anyone says that, in the sacred and holy sacrament of the Eucharist, the substance of the bread and wine remains conjointly with the body and blood of our Lord Jesus Christ and denies that wonderful and singular conversion of the whole substance of the bread into the Body, and of the whole substance of the wine into the Blood-the species only of the bread and wine remaining-which conversion indeed the Catholic Church most aptly calls Transubstantiation; let him be anathema.

CAN. III. If anyone denies, that, in the venerable sacrament of the Eucharist, the whole Christ is contained under each species, and under every part of each species, when separated; let him be anathema.

CAN. IV. If anyone says, that, after the consecration is completed, the body and blood of our Lord Jesus Christ are not in the admirable sacrament of the Eucharist, but (are there) only during the use, whilst it is being taken, and not either before or after; and that, in the hosts, or consecrated particles, which are reserved or which remain after communion, the true Body of the Lord remains not; let him be anathema.

CAN. V. If anyone says, either that the principal fruit of the most holy Eucharist is the remission of sins, or, that other effects do not result therefrom; let him be anathema.

CAN. VI. If anyone says, that, in the holy sacrament of the Eucharist, Christ, the only-begotten Son of God, is not to be adored with the worship, even external of latria; and is, consequently, neither to be venerated with a special festive solemnity, nor to be solemnly borne about in processions, according to the laudable and universal rite and custom of holy church; or is not to be exposed publicly to the people to be adored, and that the adorers thereof are idolators; let him be anathema.

CAN. VII. If anyone says that it is not lawful for the sacred Eucharist to be reserved in the sacarium, but that, immediately after consecration, it must necessarily be distributed amongst those present; or, that it is not lawful that it be carried with honor to the sick; let him be anathema.

CAN. VIII. If anyone says, that Christ, given in the Eucharist, is eaten spiritually only, and not also sacramentally and really; let him be anathema.

CAN. IX. If anyone denies, that all and each of Christ's faithful of both sexes are bound, when they have attained to years of discretion, to communicate every year, at least at Easter, in accordance with the precept of holy Mother Church; let him be anathema.

CAN. X. If anyone says, that it is not lawful for the celebrating priest to communicate himself; let him be anathema.

CAN. XI. If anyone says, that faith alone is a sufficient preparation for receiving the sacrament of the most holy Eucharist; let him be anathema. And for fear lest so great a sacrament may be received unworthily, and so unto death and condemnation, this holy Synod ordains and declares, that sacramental confession, when a confessor may be had, is of necessity to be made beforehand, by those whose conscience is burdened with mortal sin, how contrite even soever they may think themselves. But if anyone shall presume to teach, preach, or obstinately to assert, or even in public disputation to defend the contrary, he shall be thereupon excommunicated.

Seeing the city, he wept over it... He wept when He foretold the city would perish. He weeps through His elect when He sees that some have departed from a just life. Thus, it is well written, In the day of good things be not unmindful of evils. (Ecclu. 11:27) So, should you rejoice in the present world, take your joy, but mindful of the judgement to come. For in the measure an anxious soul fears the final punishment, the more its present delight is moderated & the wrath to come tempered.

Maxim of St Francis de Sales

Would to God that we paid little attention to the condition of the road, which alarms us, but kept our eyes steadily fixed upon Hm who guides us, and the happy end to which He leads us.
