RENAISSANCE MARQUIS

NEWSLETTER | FEBRUARY 2026

A MESSAGE FROM YOUR EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

After a long day, I found myself in the checkout line of a busy grocery store. Around me, the rhythmic beeps of scanners punctuated the shuffle of carts, while nearby, friends exchanged the familiar, half-hearted promise to “grab lunch soon”—a well-meaning refrain rarely fulfilled. In the next lane, an elderly gentleman was telling who I can only assume was his very young grandchild that when they got home, he’d “buy that wart off of her.” I was utterly flummoxed, positively befuddled, and completely nonplussed—what on earth was this tomfoolery unfolding in the sacred ten-items-or-less express lane? I couldn’t wait to reach my car and dive online—curious whether Pa-paw’s claim had merit or if his imagination had simply taken flight.

The digital know-it-all, Google, told me the tradition: rub a copper penny over the wart, then bury it somewhere secret—some low-tech magic hoping the wart vanishes, carried away by the earth. It’s a charming blend of faith, hope, and folk wisdom, a reminder of a time when healing was as much about intention and human connection as it was about medicine. And at the heart of it is intention, the deeply held belief that true healing begins in the heart and mind, nurtured by small acts of care and kindness.

Copper isn’t just a shiny metal; it has natural antimicrobial properties, known for centuries to aid in healing. But beyond the science, this story—and others like it—holds something far more precious: the power of storytelling and tradition. They are the threads that tie us to those who came before, the lessons and love passed down through generations.

In our fast-paced world, these stories risk fading away, lost in the shuffle of modern life. Yet they hold a quiet power—not just in what they teach us about healing or health, but in how they remind us to pause, listen, and share. To tell our own stories, to pass along the wisdom tucked into everyday moments, and to treasure the customs that shape who we are.

In our community, that spirit flourishes every day. Healing isn’t always about grand cures; it’s found in the smiles shared, the hands held, and the quiet presence beside someone who needs it most. Like the copper penny, these small acts carry a weight far greater than their size, weaving a fabric of care, connection, and hope.

As we move forward into this year, let’s take time to share our stories—those old family traditions, those little-known remedies, those moments of kindness and resilience that define us. Because when we tell these tales, we keep the past alive, strengthen our bonds, and build a future rooted in love, respect, and community.

May this year bring stories shared, memories made, and healing found in the simple power of connection.

Warmly,

Catie Mason

boys, Hugh grew up alongside his brothers Dan and Bud, under the caring guidance of their parents, Bonnie and Richard. Days in Lindale were simple but rich: time with family, friendships forged in the neighborhood, and a sense of belonging that never left him.

Hugh's school years were spent at Pepperell Schools, where he graduated before heading to West Georgia in Carrolton for further studies. Eventually, he found his way back home to Rome, enrolling at Shorter College—a decision that grounded him even more deeply in the region he loves.

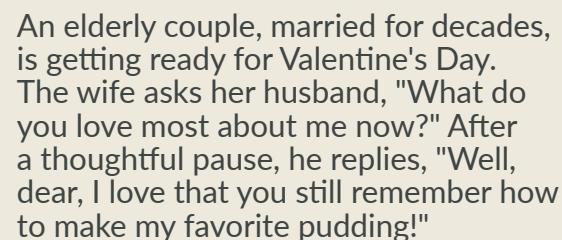

Hard work runs in Hugh's blood. He first put in about five years at the Lindale Mill, then dedicated an impressive 37 years to the local paper mill. Along the way, he built a life with Phyllis—the love of his life and his partner in all things. They married on July 1, 1960, at Lindale Methodist Church. "We're both good ole' Methodists and we love our ole' church!" they say with a smile, a testament to their shared faith and sense of humor.

Family has always been at the heart of Hugh's world. He and Phyllis are the proud parents of two sons, Steve and Jim—both of whom followed in their father's footsteps to work at the paper mill. The family grew to include two beloved daughters-in-law, Pam and Amber, and an energetic crew of grandchildren and great-grandchildren: four granddaughters, two grandsons, and seven great-grandchildren in all. Hugh's eyes light up when he talks about them, each story a reminder of the legacy he's helped create.

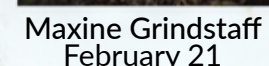

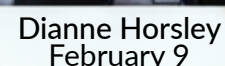

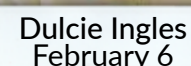

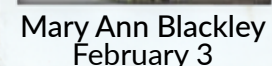

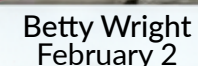

Sports have always been a big part of Hugh's life—especially cheering on Georgia Tech and the Atlanta Braves. He loved volunteering with the Boy Scouts when his boys were members, always happiest when he could lend a hand or be part of something bigger than himself.

Since moving to Renaissance with Phyllis three years ago, Hugh has found new joys. He's a regular with Marquis Melodies, singing his heart out, and he never misses a chance to join friends for lunch outings. "We love it here!" he and Phyllis say, their gratitude and warmth unmistakable. For Hugh, community and connection remain at the center of a life well-lived—and we're grateful to have him as part of our family.

An elderly couple, married for decades, is getting ready for Valentine's Day. The wife asks her husband, "What do you love most about me now?" After a thoughtful pause, he replies, "Well, dear, I love that you still remember how to make my favorite pudding!"

happy valentine's day

BY CHAPLAIN DANNY RHODES

February reminds us of love—but not just the kind celebrated with cards and flowers. It invites us to reflect on the greatest love of all: the steady, faithful love of God that has carried us through every season of life.

Scripture tells us, “The Lord your God is with you... He will take great delight in you; He will quiet you with His love” (Zephaniah 3:17). What a comforting promise. God’s love does not grow tired. It does not forget. It does not diminish with age. His love rests on us even now, just as it did in our earliest days of faith.

As the years pass, life leaves its marks—joyful memories, hard goodbyes, lessons learned through both laughter and tears. Yet through it all, God's love has been constant. When strength felt limited, His grace was sufficient. When days felt lonely, His presence drew near. When the future felt uncertain, His promises remained sure.

God's love is not dependent on what we can do.

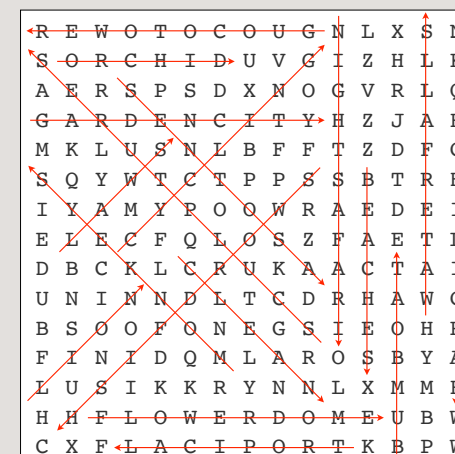

but on who we are—His beloved children. “I have loved you with an everlasting love,” the Lord declares (Jeremiah 31:3). Everlasting means without end. There is no expiration date on His care for you.

Even now, God continues to use your life as a reflection of His love. A prayer spoken quietly, a word of wisdom shared, a gentle smile offered to someone else—these are holy moments. Your faith, tested and refined over time, shines as a testimony to those around you.

If today brings joy, give thanks for love remembered and love still shared. If today brings sorrow or longing, rest in this truth: God is near, and His love holds you. Nothing can separate you from it—not time, not loss, not weakness (Romans 8:38–39).

As we walk through this month, may your heart be filled with peace, comfort, and renewed hope. You are seen. You are valued. You are deeply loved—by God, and by those whose lives have been touched by yours. And yep, by me as well!!!

A Prayer for February: Lord, thank You for loving me through every season of my life. Help me rest in Your care and share Your love with others. Fill my heart with peace and my days with hope. Amen.

Amber Liles FEBRUARY WINNER

"If anyone forces you to go one mile, go with them two miles." Matt 5:41

This month, we're delighted to shine a spotlight on Amber Liles, our Going the Extra Mile award winner. Amber was nominated by team member Mandy Shirey, who captured Amber's spirit of kindness and dedication perfectly:

"Amber is always going out of her way to help. She went and scrubbed a resident's shoes in the sink just to make her feel a little better. Another resident was having company one night to watch the Georgia game and Amber went to see if she needed her to help tidy up before her company arrived. She is always willing to help in any way that she can. Getting to know and working with Amber has been a blessing. She always puts the residents and their needs before anything else."

Amber is the proud mom of three wonderful girls: Carleigh (13), Amelia (9), and Reagan (2). She's called Rome, Georgia home for nearly six years, and has shared that time with her "other half," with whom she'll celebrate six years together this August. Though Amber works as our ever-friendly front desk receptionist, her willingness to pitch in wherever she's needed—whether it's lending a hand with housekeeping or brightening someone's day with a smile—sets her apart.

A graduate of Fort Payne High School and Northeast Alabama Community College, Amber holds a degree in Business Management Administration. She brings that same sense of organization and care to her busy home life, where she's a proud sports mom, always on the go with her girls. When she does find a quiet moment, she enjoys reading and a little online shopping. Some of her fondest memories are beach vacations with her children and family.

Amber says, "I truly enjoy working at Renaissance Marquis—I've gained a second family from the staff and residents. From working in an aging community, I have learned so much from the wisdom and stories they share with me. One of my favorite parts of the workday is seeing my sweet residents stop by to chit chat or just to say hello. Renaissance is more than just a job to me. The appreciation and kindness from the residents is truly so remarkable. I strive every day to make a positive impact and be a light to everyone."

Amber, thank you for your compassion, your work ethic, and the joy you bring to Renaissance Marquis every day. We are so grateful to have you as part of our family!
