Living the Liturgy as a Community Through the Advent Season

When we enter our Church to celebrate the Advent Season in anticipation of the Nativity of Jesus Christ, the secular world's Christmas decorations might seem to compete with the prayerful, reflective nature of Advent.

The Worship Commission invites you to deepen our communal prayer by wearing the liturgical colors of violet (purple) or rose for the four weeks of the Advent season.

Just as we have celebrated the great Feast of Pentecost in the spring by wearing the colors of the Spirit, we welcome you to embrace Advent by wearing the liturgical colors of violet, purple, or rose, increasing our communal attentiveness and worship experience to the hope, peace, joy, and love of this holy season.

The season of Advent begins next weekend,
November 29/30.

May our Advent liturgies bring us closer to celebrating Christmas with a renewed heart, mind, and spirit.

Dear Friends,

Today the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops (USCCB) issued a powerful and unified “Special Message” on immigration. Deeply rooted in our Gospel tradition of loving our neighbor, this letter affirms our solidarity with all our brothers and sisters as it expresses our concerns, opposition, and hopes with clarity and conviction. It is grounded in the Church’s enduring commitment to the Catholic social teaching of human dignity and a call for meaningful immigration reform.

I encourage each of you to take the time to read it, pray with it, and share it with others. Let it be a source of reflection in your homes, parishes, and communities. I hope its message of compassion and justice will influence our thoughts, words, and actions. May it also inspire the work we do together as a Church.

Through the intercession of Mary, Help of Christians, may God’s light bring peace, justice, and healing to all who need it most.

And may God bless you always.

As I remain—

Sincerely Yours in Christ,

Most Reverend Ronald A. Hicks
Bishop of Joliet

U.S. Bishops Issue a “Special Message” on Immigration

BALTIMORE, NOVEMBER 12, 2025—As the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops (USCCB) gathered for their Fall Plenary Assembly in Baltimore, the bishops issued a Special Message addressing their concern for the evolving situation impacting immigrants in the United States. It marked the first time in twelve years the USCCB invoked this particularly urgent way of speaking as a body of bishops. The last one issued in 2013 was in response to the federal government’s contraceptive mandate.

Under the regulations pertaining to statements and publications of the Conference, a “Special Message” may only be issued at plenary assemblies, and they are statements which the President of the Conference, the Administrative Committee, or the general membership consider to be appropriate in view of the circumstances at the time. To show the consensus of the body, a Special Message must receive two-thirds of the Conference members present and voting at the plenary in order to pass. In a vote of 216 votes in favor, 5 votes against, and 3 abstentions, the bishops overwhelmingly approved the Special Message, with sustained applause of the body following the vote. The full text of the bishops’ Special Pastoral Message follows:

As pastors, we the bishops of the United States are bound to our people by ties of communion and compassion in Our Lord Jesus Christ. We are disturbed when we see among our people a climate of fear and anxiety around questions of profiling and immigration enforcement. We are saddened by the state of contemporary debate and the vilification of immigrants. We are concerned about the conditions in detention centers and the lack of access to pastoral care.

We lament that some immigrants in the United States have arbitrarily lost their legal status. We are troubled by threats against the sanctity of houses of worship and the special nature of hospitals and schools. We are grieved when we meet parents who fear being detained when taking their children to school and when we try to console family members who have already been separated from their loved ones.

Despite obstacles and prejudices, generations of immigrants have made enormous contributions to the well-being of our nation. We as Catholic bishops love our country and pray for its peace and prosperity. For this very reason, we feel compelled now in this environment to raise our voices in defense of God-given human dignity.

Catholic teaching exhorts nations to recognize the fundamental dignity of all persons, including immigrants. We bishops advocate for a meaningful reform of our nation’s immigration laws and procedures. Human dignity and national security are not in conflict. Both are possible if people of good will work together.

We recognize that nations have a responsibility to regulate their borders and establish a just and orderly immigration system for the sake of the common good. Without such processes, immigrants face the risk of trafficking and other forms of exploitation. Safe and legal pathways serve as an antidote to such risks.

The Church’s teaching rests on the foundational concern for the human person, as created in the image and likeness of God (Genesis 1:27). As pastors, we look to Sacred Scripture and the example of the Lord Himself, where we find the wisdom of God’s compassion. The priority of the Lord, as the Prophets remind us, is for those who are most vulnerable: the widow, the orphan, the poor, and the stranger (Zechariah 7:10). In the Lord Jesus, we see the One who became poor for our sake (2 Corinthians 8:9), we see the Good Samaritan who lifts us from the dust (Luke 10:30–37), and we see the One who is found in the least of these (Matthew 25). The Church’s concern for neighbor and our concern here for immigrants is a response to the Lord’s command to love as He has loved us (John 13:34).

To our immigrant brothers and sisters, we stand with you in your suffering, since, when one member suffers, all suffer (cf. 1 Corinthians 12:26). You are not alone!

We note with gratitude that so many of our clergy, consecrated religious, and lay faithful already accompany and assist immigrants in meeting their basic human needs. We urge all people of good will to continue and expand such efforts.

We oppose the indiscriminate mass deportation of people. We pray for an end to dehumanizing rhetoric and violence, whether directed at immigrants or at law enforcement. We pray that the Lord may guide the leaders of our nation, and we are grateful for past and present opportunities to dialogue with public and elected officials. In this dialogue, we will continue to advocate for meaningful immigration reform.

*As disciples of the Lord, we remain
men and women of hope,
and hope does not disappoint! (cf.
Romans 5:5)*

May the mantle of Our Lady of Guadalupe enfold us all in her maternal and loving care and draw us ever closer to the heart of Christ.

Please don't delay! Take a few minutes before or after Mass this weekend to visit the Share Christmas tables in the lower level and select some gift tags. Doing so will fill you with the spirit of the season. Remember, our purpose is to make Christmas a time of celebration. We want to relieve the stress for those who otherwise might not be able to participate in the traditional gift-giving, so they can reflect on the true spiritual significance of our Savior's birth.

November provides us with our Thanksgiving National Holiday each year. Our traditions are to count our blessings with family and friends.

In Luke's gospel, we hear the story of how Jesus cured ten lepers yet only ONE came back to give thanks. You can be like that "ONE" by taking time to give thanks to Him and opening your heart at the Adoration Chapel. Let this become your new tradition!

Choose to come back to the Adoration Chapel.

Catholics Care

Extra time is something that sounds appealing to virtually everyone, and it is often said that health is the greatest wealth. These two concepts come together through the practice of preparing a large amount of healthy food once a week to enjoy as meals for the rest of the week—a habit known as meal prepping.

Healthy meal prepping offers numerous benefits. It eliminates the need to spend over an hour cooking each day, helps individuals reach their nutritional goals, and can greatly improve overall health and quality of life. It also saves money that might otherwise be spent on dining out or ordering takeout—all while allowing you to enjoy delicious, home-cooked meals.

Meal prepping also offers flexibility and variety to suit anyone's tastes. A popular option is preparing Mexican-inspired dishes, such as Chipotle-style burrito bowls made with seasoned meat, beans, corn, rice, and various toppings. The possibilities are endless, from Chinese and Mediterranean (pita-based) dishes to healthier versions of burgers and other favorites.

Another advantage of meal prepping is the ability to package individual meals for convenient, grab-and-go lunches throughout the week. This approach not only saves time but also makes it easy to manage portion sizes, which can support weight management or weight loss goals. In this way, meal prepping allows you to plan not just what you eat each week, but also how much you eat.

Finally, there is no shortage of online resources for anyone interested in getting started with meal prepping. Whether your goals are to eat healthier, save money, or simply simplify your routine, countless websites offer easy, nutritious recipes—even for first-time chefs!

First 3 Petitions of The Our Father Prayer

St. Thomas Aquinas said, “The Lord’s Prayer is the most perfect of prayers. This prayer not only teaches us to ask for things, but also in what order we should desire them” (CCC 2762). The opening words to the Lord’s Prayer, “Our Father, who art in Heaven,” acknowledges God as our Father and so we worship and adore Him. The rest of the Our Father expresses seven petitions or requests to God our Father.

Today we will examine the first three:

Hallowed Be Thy Name—We ask to recognize God’s name as holy which means to be set aside in order to conform to God’s purpose. We pray that God’s name be made holy in our life, so that the world can see the face of Jesus in how we live our lives.

Thy Kingdom Come—We pray for the final coming of the reign of God through Christ’s return (CCC 2818). When Jesus comes in glory at the end of time, He will bring all things under His reign. We await this day in joyful hope and work at furthering the reign of God’s Kingdom through the way we work for justice and peace. We pray “Come, Lord Jesus.”

Thy Will Be Done on Earth As It Is in Heaven—God wills that all men be saved and come to the knowledge of the truth which is His commandment that we ‘love one another, as He loves us.’ This commandment summarizes all the others and expresses God’s entire will (CCC 2822).

Prayer

Dear God, help me to love you and to be ready for Jesus.

Mission for the Week

Make sure the movies, games, and music you choose help you grow closer to Jesus.

Sharing the Gospel

Remember that when God told Noah to build an ark, his neighbors laughed at him. Then one day God sent the flood. Only Noah's family was saved because they listened to God, and they were ready. Jesus has already told you that one day he will come back. He wants you to be saved. He wants you to be ready. When you read Bible stories, listen carefully. Love God like Noah did, and learn to do what God asks.
