

Application form for review of conviction or sentence, or both

We are a member of Happy to Translate and can, upon request, provide language assistance with this document or make it available in alternative formats.

Do you believe you have been wrongly convicted or sentenced for a crime in Scotland?

The Scottish Criminal Cases Review Commission is responsible for reviewing cases where a person believes they were wrongly convicted or sentenced.

We can review your case and if we consider there are grounds for it to be referred, we have the power to refer your case back to the High Court.

An important factor we will consider is whether or not you have used all your rights of appeal. We do not determine guilt or innocence. If your case is referred, you will be given a new hearing in the High Court.

What you should know before you apply

- Our job is to review your case independently and make a referral if we consider there are grounds for it to be referred. We do not act as your lawyer, but we are independent from the police and the courts.
- To help us with our review, we will need to get some information about you and your case.
- You may like to ask a lawyer, family member, friend or someone you trust to help you complete the form.
- If you would like to use a lawyer, you may be entitled to apply for legal aid.

Please try to complete as much of this form as you can, but don't worry if you can't answer everything.

Once you have completed the form, please send the form and any supporting documents to:

Scottish Criminal Cases Review Commission
17 Renfield Street
Glasgow, G2 5AH

If you wish to submit the form electronically please contact us at the following email address and we will send you a link so that you can do this securely:

Tell us here why you think you didn't get justice in your case

- 38 For us to refer your case back to an appeal court, we must first review all the material and then consider if there are new reasons that have not been appealed and/or grounds for it to be referred.

You will find helpful advice on how to answer this and talking about some of the more common grounds for appeal in our “Guidance on Submissions” and the documents linked to it. These documents should have been provided with this form. If they have not you can request these documents by calling us at 0141 270 7030.

You can continue on the following page and on separate pieces of paper if you need to.

Data Protection

We obtain, store and disclose information about you.

We do so for a ‘law enforcement purpose’ – to decide whether there may have been a miscarriage of justice in your case and it is in the interests of justice to refer your case to the High Court for determination.

Part 3 of the Data Protection Act 2018 allows us to do so.

We may also disclose information about you for the purposes of criminal, disciplinary or civil proceedings, or the investigation or prosecution of an offence.

Our data protection and retention policies can be found at www.sccrc.org.uk – or please write to us if you would like a paper copy of the policy.

Your signature

To investigate your case fully, we may need to obtain information about your case from:

- the solicitor(s) who represented you at the trial and the appeal;
- any advocate(s) who represented you at the trial and the appeal; and
- any other solicitor or advocate who represented you at any other stage in your case, including your current solicitor.

The information we need may include:

- information about how your case was prepared and presented at the trial and the appeal; and
- details of confidential discussions you had with your solicitor or advocate (or both) at the trial stage, the appeal stage or after the appeal.

We may decide not to investigate your case unless you give us your permission for these representatives to disclose this information to us. If you wish to give permission for these representatives to give us this information, please sign below.

By signing below, you are giving permission to your previous and current legal representatives to disclose to us the information we ask for.

You may want to get legal advice before you sign.
