Cremation Alternatives: Many people who are interested in cremation as a method of final disposition are unfamiliar with service options available to them when choosing cremation. A family may select to have the deceased embalmed and placed in a cremation casket, which would allow for a traditional visitation and funeral service with the body present. Following the service, the deceased is cremated, and the cremains are handled as the family directs. This option would not require cemetery property since the cremated remains could be either retained or scattered if desired. Alternatively, you may select a direct cremation in which the deceased is transported directly to the crematory upon completion of necessary authorizations and the death certificate. A direct cremation does not provide for visitation or any funeral ceremony. However, families often wish to have a memorial service tribute for the deceased. We can help you arrange and coordinate a service that provides comfort during this difficult time. That service is frequently held in our chapel but may also be conducted at other locations. If you are interested in this type of service, we will be glad to offer suggestions to help the service be more meaningful to you.

This charge includes removal (within 50 miles of our facility) and temporary shelter of remains, necessary services of funeral director and staff, transportation to the crematory, cremation fees, private ID view (10 people or less – no trade outs, 30 minutes) authorizations and a standard alternative container. It does not include embalming, viewing or visitation, nor any rites or ceremonies. If documentation must be filed other than Franklin County, there will be additional charges for transport, and securing and filing of necessary legal documentation required for cremation. If you want to arrange a direct cremation, you can use an alternate container. Alternate containers encase the body and can be made of materials like fiberboard or composition materials (with or without an outside covering). The containers we provide are fiberboard and wood cremation trays with vinyl body cases.
