

Summer Reading 2025

This summer, we invite you to embark on an exciting reading journey with Flat Stanley by Jeff Brown!

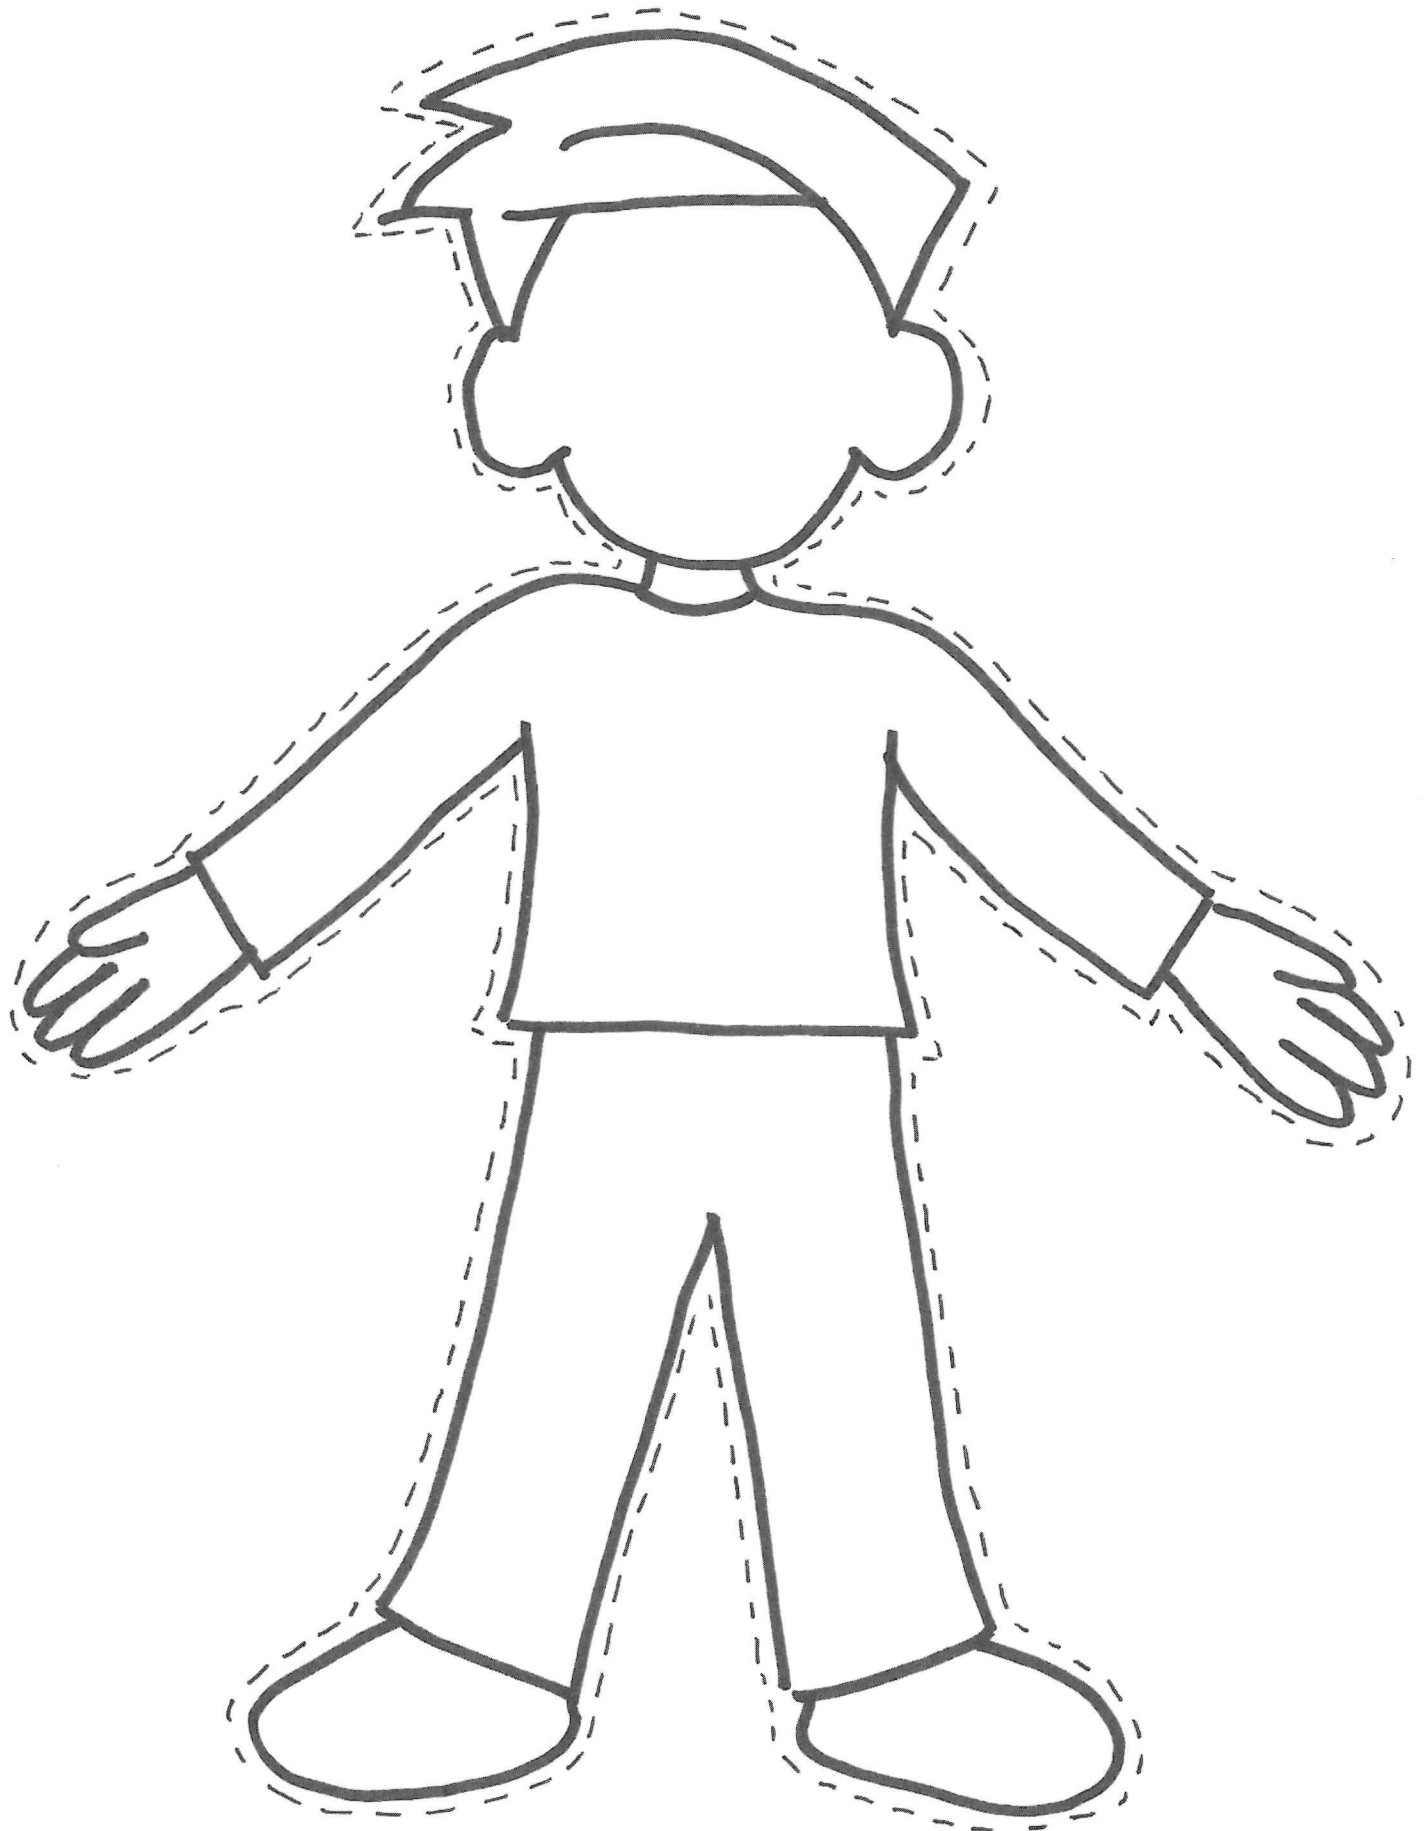

What to Do:

1. Read the Book
2. Begin your adventure by reading the original Flat Stanley book. It's a fun and imaginative story that will inspire your own summer experiences.
3. Create Your Own Character
4. After reading, create your very own Flat Stanley or Flat Stacey! Use paper, markers, and your imagination to design a character that will travel with you throughout the summer.
5. Go on Adventures
6. Take your Flat Stanley or Flat Stacey along for real-life adventures! You can:
 - Mail your character to friends or family in different places and ask them to take photos or write about their time together.
 - Bring your Flat Stanley/Stacey on local adventures like parks, museums, libraries, or family trips. Take photos and notes along the way.
7. Complete the Adventure Journal
8. Use the attached Journal to document all the places your Flat Stanley/Stacey visits. Include photos, drawings, or descriptions of the adventures.
9. Track the Journey
10. Use the included map to track where your character travels. Mark each location to show just how far your summer reading adventure goes!
11. Turn It In
12. Your completed project—including your Flat Stanley/Stacey, the Adventure Journal, and the map—must be submitted before August 22, 2025. This project will be graded, so be creative, thoughtful, and have fun!
