Pastor's Reflection

"That time of year thou mayst in me behold
When yellow leaves, or none, or few, do hang
Upon those boughs which shake against the cold,
Bare ruin'd choirs where late the sweet birds sang."
(Sonnet 73, Shakespeare)

"Those lines are not the statement of a problem awaiting a solution; they are, rather a statement of the human condition for which there is no solution. The demand is, rather, for courage, acquiescence, resignation, acceptance--- some coming to terms with. They are a time of remembering, gathering up and sorting out, discriminating between the abiding and the effervescent, a time of perhaps unmarked passage from knowledge to wisdom, from simple awareness to insight, to what Jonathan Edwards called "consent to being," to the psalmist's "so teach us to number our days that we may get a heart of wisdom," a movement of the total spirit from an anxious hanging-on to a graceful letting-be, a releasement." (Joseph Sittler)

November invites us into prayers of remembrance of and thanksgiving for our beloved dead, and then meditation on our own dying, and rising, in the pascal mystery of Jesus. This weekend we will put in the back of church our Book of the Deceased. All are welcome to inscribe the names of any who "have gone before us." The book will then be set in the sanctuary from the Feast of All Souls (November 2) until the Feast of Christ the King (November 22).

Our presentation, Put Your House In Order, (Wednesday November 18, 7:00 p.m.) will offer reflections and practical tools for preparing for our own death and dying.

We give them back to thee, dear Lord, who gavest them to us;
Yet as thou dost not lose them in giving, so we have not lost them by their return.

Not as the world giveth, givest thou, O Lover of Souls.

What thou gavest, thou takest not away,

For what is thine is ours also if we are thine.

And Life is eternal and Love is immortal, and death is only an horizon, and an horizon is nothing save the limit of our sight.

Lift us up, strong Son of God, that we may see further;

Cleanse our eyes that we may see more clearly;

Draw us closer to thyself so that we may know ourselves to be nearer to our loved ones who are with thee.

And while thou dost prepare a place for us, prepare us also for that happy place, that where thou art we may be also for evermore. (Bede Jarrett, O.P.)

In Christ

--Fr. Paul D. Holland, S.J.

Feasts of All Saints and All Souls.

Our Book of the Deceased will in the back and every day until November 2nd,

and then enshrined in the sanctuary throughout November.

You are invited to add the names of your beloved deceased
to the Book.

YOUR

House in ORDER!

Wednesday, Nov. 18th
at 7:00 pm

St. Michael the Archangel parish will once again offer our panel discussion, Put Your House In Order. Four panelists will offer brief presentations on aspects of preparing for our own deaths, including estate planning, medical and moral issues around end-of-life questions, and writing our own obituaries and funeral liturgies. The hour-long program invites us to confront the reality that each of us will die, and offers some practical aids to how we can make our dying ---with courage, hope and faith--- our final ministry to our families, friends, our Lord and His Church.

Faith Formation & Youth Ministry

As you enroll your child for the 2027 Faith Formation sessions, please consider becoming a catechist, mentor or volunteering in another way. We are looking for teens, parents, grandparents or older siblings, to help with teaching/being a mentor, helping with refreshments, or assisting the faith formation office in many other ways. We depend on our catechists and other volunteers to help us bring the message of Jesus to the children of St. Michael Church. Loren or Laurie will be most happy to meet with you to discuss what is involved. This is a great way to serve in our parish.
