The Role of the Faithful in the Holy Eucharist

In the Mass, the faithful are a holy people and a royal priesthood, offering thanks to God and joining the priest in the Eucharistic sacrifice. We show this by our reverence for the Lord and our charity toward one another.

We are called to avoid individualism and remember that we have one Father in heaven; therefore, we are brothers and sisters in Christ. Our unity is expressed when we listen to God's Word, pray and sing together, and share in the Lord's table. Standing, sitting, and kneeling together is a visible sign of this communion.

The Church is strengthened when the faithful serve in liturgical ministries such as Lectors, Extraordinary Ministers of Holy Communion, Cantors, Altar Servers, and Ushers. The choir and musicians also fulfill an important liturgical role by supporting the prayer of the assembly.

Active participation in the Mass means praying the responses aloud and engaging with our whole heart, mind, and soul, offering ourselves fully to God.

El papel de los fieles en la Sagrada Eucaristía

En la Misa, los fieles constituyen un pueblo santo y un sacerdocio real que da gracias a Dios y se une al sacerdote en el sacrificio eucarístico. Manifestamos esto mediante nuestra reverencia hacia el Señor y nuestra caridad mutua.

Estamos llamados a evitar el individualismo y a recordar que tenemos un solo Padre en el cielo; por tanto, somos hermanos y hermanas en Cristo. Nuestra unidad se expresa cuando escuchamos la Palabra de Dios, oramos y cantamos juntos, y participamos en la mesa del Señor. El hecho de estar de pie, sentados o de rodillas al unísono es un signo visible de esta comunión.

La Iglesia se fortalece cuando los fieles prestan servicio en ministerios litúrgicos tales como lectores, ministros extraordinarios de la Sagrada Comunión, cantores, monaguillos y ujieres. El coro y los músicos también desempeñan una función litúrgica importante al apoyar la oración de la asamblea.

La participación activa en la Misa implica pronunciar las respuestas en voz alta y participar con todo el corazón, la mente y el alma, ofreciéndonos plenamente a Dios.
